Postmaster General To Cancel Airmail Contracts

ROOSEVELT ANNOUNCES DECISION

Cancellation Order To Be Issued Soon, President Tells Press Conference

DOMESTIC LINES HIT

War, Commerce And Post-office Departments Will Carry Mail Temporarily

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—(UP)—The administration today cancelled all domestic airmail contracts because of evidence of fraud disclosed in senate and departmental investigations.

President Roosevelt by executive order directed army planes to carry the mail where necessary to maintain the service.

Postmaster General Farley completed the details of cancellation with a formal order.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—(UP)—President Roosevelt announced at his press conference today that the postmaster general will soon issue an order cancelling all domestic airmail contracts.

During the cancellation period the war department, the department of commerce and the post-office department will carry the airmail.

Cancellation has been decided upon as a result of disclosures in investigations of contracts let during the Hoover administration.

In connection with the forthcoming cancellation it was explained at the White House that there was believed sufficient grounds for such action in charges of collusion or fraud brought out recently.

President Roosevelt said he expected to issue almost immediately an executive order directing the postmaster general, the secretary of war, the secretary of commerce, and officers and officials of the respective departments to cooperate to the extent necessary to maintain airmail service.

He further will direct the secretary of war to place at the disposal of the postmaster general planes, pilots, landing fields, and all other army equipment necessary to handle and transport such mail for this emergency over such routes as the postmaster general may prescribe.

It further was explained that the cancellation will bar those lines whose contracts have been revoked for bidding again for mail contracts over a five-year period.

In response to the question "does this mean the army has taken over the airmail transportation system?" the reply was only where necessary.

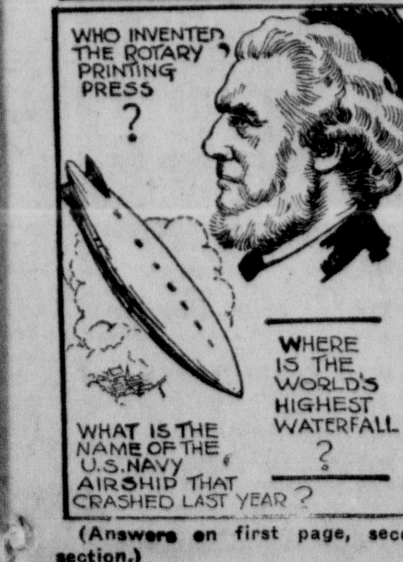

The contract cancellations, it was added, apply only to domestic lines and not to the Pan-American airways in this instance.

Late News Flashes

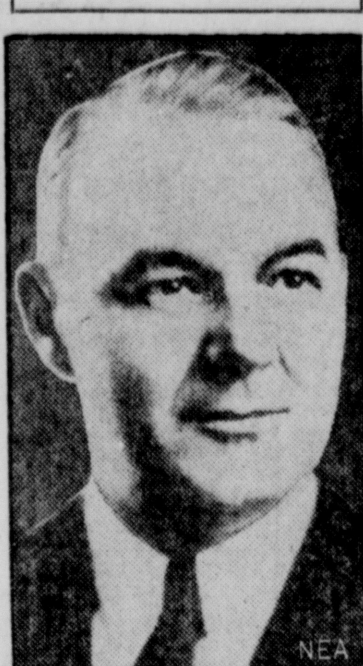

ST. PAUL, Feb. 9.—(UP)—Department justice agents have rounded up witnesses who can identify at least three of the kidnapers of Edward G. Bremer, the United Press learned last today.

PARIS, Feb. 9.—(UP)—Thousands of Communists desperately struggled and fought with police tonight in streets leading into the vast Palace Republic. They were continuously forced back by hard-hitting police and Mobile Guards and were unable to storm the square.

SLEUTHS HUNT FOR KIDNAPERS OF BANK HEAD

Bremer Tells Of His Experiences In Great Detail To Agents

ST. PAUL, Minn., Feb. 9.—(UP)—Guided by information that Edward G. Bremer, bank president, obtained during his three weeks captivity, federal agents and police today sought a band of half a dozen kidnapers who were paid $200,000 for his release.

Bremer's observations were given federal department of justice agents in great detail. He revealed that during his long captivity he became "quite friendly with the kidnapers."

Federal officials threw more than a score of sleuths into the search, moving with utmost secrecy.

Inspector Charles Tierney of the St. Paul police headed the operations of his special anti-kidnaping squad. Tierney admitted that he sought Alvin Karpis and Fred Barker, Missouri desperadoes, for questioning in the case.

Bremer rested at his home, recovering from a highly nervous condition, bordering on hysteria. An ordeal of 22 days in the hands of kidnapers who had beat him into submission when he was first seized was climaxed by a night and day of intensive questioning by federal agents and police.

The only information regarding Bremer's ordeal was made public through the United Press by Dr. H. T. Nippert, aged Bremer family physician.

Nippert revealed, after treating Bremer upon his return, that the young banker had been beaten into submission by two kidnapers who entered his automobile last January 17 when he stopped for a traffic signal.

Although dazed, Bremer did not lose consciousness at any time, Nippert revealed. The stalwart victim was carried from his own automobile to the abductors' car and blindfolded.

After this preliminary rough handling, Bremer was not harmed, Nippert said. He quoted Bremer as saying:

"I got to be rather sociable with them. They fed me well and since there was nothing else to do, I got plenty of sleep."

MAY REJECT ARMY MOTOR CAR BIDS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—(UP)—Reports were current today that the war department at the behest of President Roosevelt would reject all pending bids on motor cars and trucks for the army's motorization project and call for new bids.

This was the first concrete result reported from a federal grand jury's investigation of irregularities in the award of army contracts and the activities of a group of reputed lobbyists charged with having attempted to sell their "influence" in obtaining juicy contracts.

Rejection of all pending bids would delay the war department's $10,000,000 plan of motorizing of the army.

TAX REVISION BILL WILL GET SPEEDY ACTION

Republican Support Assured For Measure And For Planned "Gag Rule"

BULLETIN
WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—(UP)—The tax revision bill introduced in the house today by Chairman Doughton of the ways and means committee which is expected to report it out Monday.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—(UP)—A tax revision bill, calculated to yield $250,000,000 in additional revenue and at the same time cut down the income tax payments of the average man, was ready today for house action.

The measure, drafted directly as a result of the tax evasion disclosures by the senate, after introduction in the house by Chairman Doughton, will be turned back to the committee, and then be formally reported out so the chamber may start debate on it next Wednesday.

Republican support was assured for the bill and for the "gag rule" which the committee will ask for its consideration. By a week from Tuesday the monumental tax legislation should be passed out to the senate. The proposed gag would permit only committee amendments to the measure, but permit "stream" to be blown off in 16 hours of general debate, which translated into sessions means four days.

Under the bill the "nuisance tax" on checks will be abolished the first of the year. It also ends half a cent import duty on crude oil. The one "tax" feature remaining in the bill is a five cent pound excise tax on coconut oil.

A salaried man earning $3000 a year now pays an income tax of $29. He would pay only $8 under the measure, due to a provision permitting persons with

MILLS' ATTACK IS ANSWERED BY ICKES

NEW YORK, Feb. 9.—(UP)—Former Secretary of the Treasury Ogden L. Mills' recent attack on the new deal was answered last night by Harold L. Ickes, secretary of the interior, and Donald R. Richberg, general counsel of NRA. The administration leaders speaking before different audiences, took special pains to compare the new order with the old.

Ickes characterized Mills' speech at Topeka: "A faint voice" telling "the free thinking, hard-hitting farmers of the middle west that it was far better to starve by strict constitutional methods than to live by a liberalized interpretation of the fundamental document."

Richberg's reply was centered upon Mills' criticism of the plan. He said the economy exposed by the new deal.

LABOR SURVEY FOR MONTH OPTIMISTIC

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—(UP)—Stabilization of the American dollar in terms of gold has removed a "great obstacle" to restoration of business confidence and business men in general are planning a higher rate of activity this spring, the American Federation of Labor reported today in its monthly survey of business.

Coincident with the optimistic labor review were official and semi-official reports of new business gains, prospects of a heavy flow of investment money back into private industry and a continued mounting tide of revenue into the federal treasury.

Evidence of expansion in business is afforded in the growing rate of the federal government's tax collections.

Big Dirigible Cruises Over San Diego

SAN DIEGO, Feb. 9.—(UP)—The navy dirigible Macon cruised leisurely over San Diego today, launching and receiving her auxiliary planes in a succession of maneuvers.

The craft arrived here before dawn after an overnight flight from her Sunnyvale base. Preparations were completed to moor the cruiser at Camp Kearney at 4 p.m. today. It will be the craft's first overnight stop in this area.

The ill-fated Akron was the only other dirigible to land at the Camp Kearney base.

COLDEST DAY IS RECORDED IN NEW YORK

Temperature Drops To All-Time Low Mark Of 14 Below Zero Today

NEW YORK, Feb. 9.—(UP)—The cold wave established an all-time record in New York today when the thermometer dropped to 14.3 degrees below zero at 7:25 a.m. It was the coldest day recorded in local weather bureau history.

The forecast was fair and continued cold for today and fair, not quite so cold tomorrow.

The cold affected the city's transportation facilities and commuters' trains were late. The metropolitan area was covered with a week-old, sooty layer of snow. Most of it had been removed from walks but many streets were ice-covered and surface traffic moved cautiously.

There was intense suffering in the slum districts. Lodging houses were crowded during the night with applicants for shelter.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Feb. 9.—(UP)—New all time cold records were established in western and central New York today. Three deaths were reported in Buffalo, where 25 degrees below zero, the lowest reading in the city's history, was reported.

For the first time in history, Lake Ontario was frozen over. The 45-mile stretch between the port of Rochester and Cobourg, Ont., was a solid mass of ice.

BOSTON, Feb. 9.—(UP)—A new all time cold record for Boston was established today—18 degrees below zero. It was one degree colder than the previous record, established December 30 last.

CHICAGO, Feb. 9.—(UP)—An intense cold wave moved down into the eastern part of the United States today from the Hudson Bay region of Canada bringing sub-zero temperatures and snow.

YOUNG REFUSES TO DEBATE SINCLAIR

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 9.—(UP)—To debate campaign issues with Upton Sinclair, erstwhile Socialist and current Democratic candidate for governor, would be to lend dignity to your new acquired party affiliation," in the opinion of Milton K. Young, Los Angeles attorney and rival candidate.

Young so notified Sinclair in chilling the latter's request for a debate with a court refusal. Young was the Democratic nominee in the last gubernatorial campaign.

The Democratic contest became further complicated last night by the entry of William H. Evans into the race.

Evans announced his candidacy at a meeting at Ocean Park Evans, an original Roosevelt supporter, pledged his continued support to the president's recovery program.

VERNE SANKEY ENDS HIS LIFE IN JAIL CELL

Confessed Kidnap Hangs Himself With Necktie During Night

SIOUX FALLS, S. D., Feb. 9.—(UP)—Verne Sankey, confessed leader in two abduction plots, was dead today, having chosen suicide rather than face life imprisonment.

Sankey hanged himself from the bars of his cell in the South Dakota state prison last night by a noose fashioned from his necktie. He faced life imprisonment for the confessed kidnaping of Charles Boettcher II of Denver. He also had confessed to the abduction of Haskell Bohn, St. Paul youth.

Sankey was questioned about the kidnaping and murder of the infant son of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, but denied participating in that crime.

The suicide occurred while two federal marshals, Frank Gilmore and A. E. Neely, stood within a few feet of his cell. He wadded up a handkerchief and crammed it down his throat to drown any noise he might make while strangling. The marshals were inspecting the cell of Gordon Alcorn, Sankey's chief lieutenant in the Boettcher kidnaping.

Sankey had been despondent ever since he was brought to Sioux Falls from Chicago, where he was captured as he sat in a barber's chair. Alcorn was arrested the following day in Chicago. Sankey announced his intention to commit suicide when arrested.

Federal officials who were in charge of prosecuting Sankey moved today to bring Alcorn into court to plead guilty. They likewise prepared to prosecute Mrs. Fern Sankey and other persons who all be charged with violations of the Lindbergh anti-kidnaping law.

United States District Attorney Olaf Elden did not reveal the names of other persons to be prosecuted.

The roundup of Boettcher's kidnapers began March 7, 1933, with the arrest of four suspects, Carl W. Peaco, Denver salesman, Arthur Youngberg, Kimball, S. D.,

CANDIDATE FAVORS SEAVEY FOR OFFICE

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Feb. 9.—(UP)—Clyde L. Seavey of San Francisco, head of the state railroad commission, probably would become state director of finance if Sheridan Downey, Democratic candidate for governor, won the election, Downey revealed today.

"The next four years will be the most critical in California's history," Downey said, "and if the state is to weather the financial storm into which it was plunged during the administration of Governor Rolph, it must have leaders whose integrity and ability are unquestioned."

He said he had decided to offer the post to Seavey because of the railroad commissioner's outstanding record.

SUGAR LEGISLATION READY FOR SOLONS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—(UP)—Legislation to effectuate President Roosevelt's plan for rehabilitation of the sugar industry was scheduled to be introduced in congress today.

The president proposes that sugar production be allocated between the United States and insular regions on a definite quota basis, that sugar be made a basic commodity of the agricultural adjustment act and therefore subject to a processing tax, the proceeds of which would be used to compensate farmers for holding their production to quota levels, and that Secretary of Agriculture Wallace be given broad powers to regulate the industry.

Measure Is Introduced Late Today

Heavy Penalties Provided; 60 Percent Margin Is Required By Law

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—(UP)—President Roosevelt today asked congress to place all the nation's stock exchanges and commodity markets under iron-clad federal regulation in order to protect investors.

Urging strict control of exchanges and brokerage houses and limitation of funds available for market operations, the president in a special message said "Naïve speculation has been made too alluring and far too easy for those who could and those who could not afford to gamble."

Bills designed to carry out the president's views were promptly introduced in congress.

The legislation would place all exchanges under strict control of the federal trade commission.

Text of Message

The text of President Roosevelt's stock exchange message to congress follows:

"To the congress:

"In my message to you last March proposing legislation for federal supervision of national traffic in investment securities I said:

"This is but one step in our broad purpose of protecting investors and depositors. It should be followed by legislation relating to the better supervision of the purchase and sale of all property dealt with on exchanges."

"This congress has performed a useful service in regulating the investment business on the part of financial houses and in protecting the investing public in its acquisition of securities."

"There remains the fact, however, that outside the field of legitimate investment, naked speculation has been made too alluring and far too easy for those who could and for those who could not afford to gamble."

"Such speculation has run the scale from the individual who has risked his pay envelope or his meager savings on a margin transaction involving stocks with whose true value he was wholly unfamiliar, to the pool of individuals or corporations with large resources, often not their own, which sought by manipulation to raise or depress market quotations far out of line with reason, all of this resulting in loss to the average investor, who is of necessity personally misinformed."

CODE AUTHORITIES TO MEET JOHNSON

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—(UP)—Administrator Hugh S. Johnson is planning to summon representatives of more than 200 code authorities to a conference in March for the first general overhauling of the NRA code structure.

The summons will go forth in the midst of what Johnson predicts will become a movement to repeal the National Industrial Recovery act. It is under hot but scattered fire on Capitol Hill.

Johnson told a New York audience of inconsistencies in codes and promised:

"We are going to have all the 200 codes opened in one of the most significant public conferences ever held."

NEW CABINET IS COMPLETED BY DOUMERGUE

New Prime Minister Will Not Occupy Ministerial Portfolio, Said

PARIS, Feb. 9.—(UP)—Gaston Doumergue completed his "salvational" cabinet today as 8000 troops marched into the capital and camped at public buildings and barracks.

Doumergue completed his cabinet at 1 p.m. (8 a.m. EST). He decided to take only the prime ministry instead of occupying also one of the ministerial portfolios.

The 71-year-old Doumergue planned to announce his cabinet list this afternoon after President Albert Le Brun decreed it as official. It will be published in tomorrow's official journal as final.

The troops, symbols of the republic's authority, came to reinforce the Paris garrison in anticipation of a 24-hour general strike, called by labor unions in protest against the possibility of a dictatorship under the concentration government.

Unofficially, Doumergue's cabinet was understood to include:

- Foreign affairs—Louis Barthou, former premier.
- Justice—Henri Cheron.
- Interior—Albert Sarraut, former premier.
- Finance—Germain Martin.
- War—Marshal Philippe Petain.
- Navy—Andre Tardieu, former premier.
- Air—General Denain.
- Public works—Pierre Etienne Flaudin.
- Colonies—Pierre Laval, former premier.
- Commerce—Edouard Herriot, former premier.
- Public health—Louis Marin.
- Merchant Marine—Adrien Marquet, Neo-Socialist leader.
- Agriculture—Francis Pietri.
- National education—Yvon Delbos.

Pensions—Either President Rivollet, of the War Veterans' association, whose manifestations caused the overthrow of Edouard Daladier and the summons to Doumergue, or the Basque Deputy Jean Yzarnegaray, who intervention in the chamber of deputies led to the exposure of Alexandre Stavisky, fraudulent banker.

SLAYER OF SINGER IS FOUND GUILTY

REDWOOD CITY, Cal., Feb. 9.—(UP)—The bullet which cut short the career of an attractive singer about to depart for a Metropolitan Opera company tryout brought her convicted slayer within the shadow of life imprisonment today.

A jury of eleven women and one man deliberated less than two and one-half hours before finding temperamental Umberto Giusti, himself a gifted singer, guilty of first degree murder. He was accused of slaying his sweetheart, Emilia da Prato, the "songbird of San Francisco."

LETTER SENT SOLONS

Former Assistant Secretary Challenges Right Of Senate Proceedings

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—(UP)—The senate today ordered the immediate arrest of William P. MacCracken jr., after the former assistant secretary of commerce had challenged the senate's constitutional right to question him further regarding airmail contracts.

On a motion by Majority Leader Robinson, proceedings against three officials or major airline companies summoned to appear with MacCracken, were suspended until the Hoover administration official can be brought before the bar of the senate.

MacCracken, in a letter to Vice President Garner, refused to appear before the senate on the ground that the senate's functions were legislative and not judicial.

Declines to Appear

"The court has held that punishment for completed acts is a judicial function," MacCracken's letter said. "To appear would give assent and voluntary aid to violation of my constitutional right. Therefore I respectfully decline to appear."

The dramatic move of the central figure in the contempt proceedings which the senate was to hear today was interpreted by those present as indicating that he had chosen to take his fight to the local courts.

MacCracken's communication included a long statement which he said he intended to read had he elected to appear. It was a defense of his contention that documents in his office relating to negotiations with a number of major airline companies were privileged between a lawyer and his clients, and under the law, could not be divulged without waivers from the clients involved.

"There is no such thing in my office," the statement said, "as an airmail or ocean mail contract file."

Borah Protests

Chairman Black of the special senate committee which has been investigating airmail contracts offered the order proposing MacCracken's arrest.

It was adopted after brief objection by Senator Borah, Rep., Idaho.

The airline officials, Harris M. Hanshue, president of Western Air Express, Gilbert L. Gliven, Hawaiian secretary, and Col. L. H. Brittin, vice president of Northwest Airways, were waiting in an ante-room while the senate heard the MacCracken communication.

Auditor Reports Tax Delinquency Of 18 Per Cent

LAMBERT GIVES FIGURES ON FIRST PAYMENT

Delinquency on first installment 1932-34 tax payments amount to 18.23 per cent, according to a statement today by County Auditor William Lambert.

The amount of the delinquency in cash is $426,512.50 on a total first installment charge of $2,339,546.77.

This figure, according to Lambert, is in comparison with the 1.93 per cent delinquency on the first installment for 1932-33. The total charge for first installment taxes last year was $3,231,350.91 and the cash delinquency amounted to $585,586.26. Lambert indicated that the increased delinquency this year might be attributed to the fact that the penalty for delinquency this year is 8 per cent while last year it amounted to 10 per cent.

According to Lambert's record he has collected a total of $104,509.43 as delinquent taxes and penalties compared to the $126,466.56 collected last fiscal year.

Lambert said that of the amount already collected by him this year $100,378.82 was tax payments and $4480.62 was for penalty on delinquent payments.

Last fiscal year $101,761.59 was collected on taxes and $24,885.21 for penalties.

County Tax Collector John Lamb, previously had reported an estimated delinquency of 14.96 per cent.

MORE BENEFITS FOR VETERANS ASSURED TODAY

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—(UP)—Senate advocates of increased veterans' benefits claimed a major victory today with assurance from administration leaders that some 20,000 additional veterans would be restored to pension rolls from which they had been removed under the economy act.

The announcement of the new concessions, apparently was made in an effort to head off a threatened revolt of senators favoring veterans' legislation.

The first step toward putting the broadened provisions into law was scheduled for today's meeting of the senate appropriations subcommittee charged with considering proposed veterans' legislation. The subcommittee had before it the proposed Reed amendment to the independent offices appropriation bill. The new administration attitude means that the administration has agreed to substantial parts of three of the four points in the American Legion's program as presented by Senator Reed, Rep., Pa.

The Reed amendment proposed restoration of benefits to war-service total disability cases, the shifting of the burden of proof of earned incomes up to $8,000 to deduct 10 per cent of their income before calculating their tax.

In addition all taxpayers who "earn their total income" are helped by lower surtaxes. A man earning $100,000 would pay in total taxes, surtax and normal four per cent income levy, $29,778. Today he pays $30,100. The change is made possible by the new surtax brackets which force the taxpayers who get most of their income from stock dividends or partially tax exempt securities. For instance $100,000 income, half earned, half from dividends, would mean payment of $27,778 under the new proposals, compared with $26,100 at present.

Many Provisions

Several provisions not entirely in the field studied during a subcommittee's six months consideration of the legislation were in the final draft of the bill. These included a small manufacturers' and refiners' tax on oil to help finance the oil code operations and act as a check to reveal "hot oil." Another repeal, effective July 1, the higher rates on second class mail. The coconut oil tax was a third, and a penalty fine aimed at "hot oil" sales a fourth.

Provisions taxing personal holding companies, increasing the tax on filing of consolidated returns, and restricting corporate reorganizations were aimed specifically at preventing tax evasions by the wealthy.

GUN CLUB WINS IN WATER WASTE SUIT

Justice of the Peace Chris P. Pann of Huntington Beach yesterday granted a motion of non-suit in favor of the Blue Wing Gun club on trial for violation of the county's recently adopted ordinance preventing waste of water.

The motion for non-suit was granted upon completion of the county's presentation of evidence against the gun club. It was granted on the grounds that Assistant District Attorney W. F. Menton had not proven his case.

This is the second of 12 cases pending against gun clubs in the county accused of wasting water through flooding of the club hunting grounds. The first case was decided in favor of the county as a test case of the ordinance and was later confirmed by the state supreme court. Menton said this morning that the remaining 10 cases would be brought to trial as soon as possible.

HOW IRATE RIOTERS APPEASED ANGER

Maddened by the revelations of the Stavisky banking scandal, thousands of Parisians gave vent to their anger by barricading roads, tearing up trees, breaking lamp posts and burning newspaper stands. PRESIDENT ASKS REGULATION OF STOCK MARKET

"The exchanges in many parts of the country which deal in securities and commodities conduct, of course, a national business because their customers live in every part of the country. The managers of these exchanges have, it is true, often taken steps to correct certain obvious abuses. We must be certain that abuses are eliminated and to this end a broad policy of national regulation is required.

"It is my belief that exchanges for dealing in securities and commodities are necessary and of definite value to our commercial and agricultural life. Nevertheless, it should be our national policy to restrict, as far as possible, the use of these exchanges for purely speculative operations.

"I therefore recommend to the congress the enactment of legislation providing for the regulation by the federal government of the operations of exchanges dealing in securities and commodities for the protection of investors, for the safeguarding of values, and so far as it may be possible for the elimination of unnecessary, unwise and destructive speculation."

60 Percent Margin
Margin requirements are placed at a minimum of 60 per cent of the value of the securities traded in, under the bill introduced today. This is expected to eliminate "short-selling" speculation. Margins hitherto have seldom exceeded 25 per cent except in the case of most volatile stocks. The margin requirement may be raised above 60 per cent under the bill but now lowered.

The measure was introduced in the senate by Chairman Fletcher of the banking committee and in the house by Chairman Rayburn of the interstate commerce committee.

The law would become effective October 1, 1934. Each exchange would be required to pay an annual registration fee equal to one five-hundredths of one per cent of the total amount of sales on the exchange during the preceding year.

The work of regulating the exchanges is placed in the hands of the federal trade commission, which already controls enforcement of the new act regulating issuance of securities.

Penalties Provided
Criminal penalties are provided for those who violate the law. Provision is made for civil recovery of damages by those injured by proscribed activities.

Short sales, violently condemned in many quarters following the 1929 collapse of the stock markets, are placed under the supervision of the federal trade commission which has the power to issue regulations covering them. The same applies to "stop-loss" orders and all other "devices" which the commission may find detrimental to the public interest of the proper protection of investors.

The "teeth" of the bill are included in a section permitting maximum prison sentences of 10 years in jail and fines of $25,000 for violators. Exchanges themselves are liable to fines up to $500,000.

Aside from the control of the commission the exchanges are permitted to maintain such internal

WILL ROGERS says:

SANTA MONICA, Feb. 9. (To the Editor of The Register:) All we read in the papers today out here is riots in Paris and taxicab riots in New York. We know what they are fighting over in New York. They are fighting over a nickel. But nobody (even in France) knows exactly what they are fighting over. France has got more different parties represented in the House of Deputies. Now in a fight on the street, there is not that many different kinds of badges to wear. Well it's good to see France sore at somebody besides us.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

discipline as they have in the past and to determine disputes among members. The permission is contingent on the exchange action being in accord with the commission's regulations.

Further to curb excessive speculation, aside from the stringent margin requirements and regulations of short selling, exchange members, dealers and brokers are forbidden to borrow except from federal reserve system member banks.

Borrowings Limited
Borrowings by the customer's deposit may not exceed ten times the amount of assets used in the business of the brokerage house. Customer's securities may not be hypothecated or lent except with the customer's consent.

Manipulation of security prices is made a criminal offense. Expressly outlawed are "wash" sales, matched orders, combinations of purchases and sales made to raise or depress prices, spreading of rumors that prices will change because of activities of manipulators, dissemination or misleading information, paying for dissemination of misleading information in aid of manipulation, pegging security prices without informing the commission, cornering a security, using options or trading against options.

Those engaged in the securities business who act through exchange members are prohibited from acting also as underwriters or dealers as distinguished from brokers.

Members cannot act as specialists unless registered as specialists and specialists may execute orders only at fixed prices. The specialist is also forbidden to disclose confidential information.

All securities trade on exchanges must be registered with the commission under regulations corresponding to those now applying to new issues, annual, quarterly and monthly reports on the business of the companies must be furnished.

Must Register
Use of the mails or interstate commerce in connection with proxies for registered securities is prohibited unless full information regarding the proxies is filed with the commission.

Over-the-counter markets are placed under the supervision of the commission along with regular exchanges. Directors, officers and stockholders holding in excess of five per cent of the stock of corporations are forbidden to speculate in the securities of the companies in which they are interested and in which they presumably have "inside information."

They must report their holdings and dealings to the commission and any profit they may make from speculation is recoverable by the corporation.

In order to make its control effective, the trade commission is authorized to have access at all times to accounts of brokers, dealers and exchanges. In addition the commission may send inspectors into the exchanges and to meetings of exchange committees.

The United Press was reliably informed that the federal trade commission membership probably will be increased from five to seven.

It was indicated that the two new members would be exchange specialists and that they, with one other member of the present commission probably Commissioner Landis, would handle the bill's administration.

The remaining four members would administer the present work, including appeals from NRA decisions, false advertising questions, utility investigations and citations of alleged monopolistic combines.

Representatives of exchanges and leading brokerage houses will testify at hearings on the new bill, expected to be some time next week.

Ferdinand Pecora, the senate committee's counsel, is expected to produce information regarding margin and speculative trading gathered from detailed questionnaires.

The purpose of the bill was described by Fletcher as "to make stock exchanges market places for investors and not places or resorts for those who would speculate or gamble."

"Manipulators, who have in the past had a comparatively free hand to befuddle and fool the public and to extract from the public millions of dollars through stock exchange operations, are to be curbed and deprived of the opportunity to grow fat on the savings of the average man and woman of America," Fletcher said.

"The stock exchanges will be given opportunity to enforce the standards of conduct laid down in this legislation and such other standards consistent with it as they deem proper. If they fail in the future as they have in the past, the penalties of the criminal law and the civil liabilities attach."

"The financial market places of this country will be cleaned and made safe for the honest investor."

BICYCLISTS HURT WHEN HIT BY CARS

Three persons were hurt in two similar accidents yesterday involving an automobile and bicycle. N. N. VERNE SANKEY ENDS HIS LIFE IN JAIL CELL

Mrs. Sankey and Mrs. Ruth Kohler, Denver, were indicted on kidnapping charges. Pearce and Youngberg pleaded guilty to their parts of their abduction.

Pearce was sentenced to 26 years in the Colorado state penitentiary and Youngberg received a 16-year sentence. Pearce was said to have acted as a contact man and Youngberg as a guard at Sankey's Kimball ranch.

The indictments against the women were not prosecuted. All named Sankey as leader of the gang and Alcorn as his aide.

SENATE ORDERS ARREST TODAY OF MCCRACKEN

The MacCracken move provided a sensational development in the inquiry which is dealing with awards of airmail contracts under former Postmaster General Brown.

Offers Order

As soon as reading of MacCracken's letter was completed Black offered his order for the arrest. Borah's was the only voice raised in question and he withdrew objection when Black explained that in his opinion MacCracken had shown a "contemptuous disregard" for the senate's inquiry.

MacCracken said he had "the greatest respect" for the senate, but added he considered the contempt action against him "a violation of my constitutional rights."

He informed the senate he would seek protection in the courts.

Senate Sergeant-at-Arms Chesley Jurney began preparation immediately of the writ for the arrest, and said he would take the former "little cabinet" officer of the Hoover administration into custody at once.

NUT GROWERS MEET SATURDAY FOR INSTITUTE

More than 500 walnut growers from all over Southern California and some representatives from Northern California are expected to attend the sixteenth annual Southern California Walnut Grower's Institute which starts tomorrow morning at 9:30 o'clock in the auditorium of the Willard school. It was announced today by Farm Advisor Harold E. Wahlberg.

Sponsored by the Inter-County Walnut Department of the Farm Bureau, and the extension service of the University of California, the institute will be an all-day session. The morning session will be presided over by A. D. Smiley, chairman of the department, while John Thillie, of Ventura, will preside at the afternoon session. Willard Smith, chairman of the Orange county board of supervisors, will welcome delegates at the sessions open.

Immediately after lunch, the Santa Ana Junior College Girls' Octet will entertain with a group of songs under the direction of Miss Myrtle Martin.

Carlisle Thorpe, general manager of the California Walnut Growers' Association, will discuss the present domestic and foreign marketing situation of the California Walnut Bureau of the California Farm Bureau Federation, who recently returned from Washington, will discuss recent developments in farm legislation. Other matters of importance to walnut growers will be considered.

ARGUMENT ON DISMISSAL NOT GIVEN COURT

Notice of the city of Huntington Beach's motion to strike from the files the State complaint against the Wilshire Oil company, accused of tapping state tidelands oil pool at Huntington Beach was ordered off calendar this morning by Superior Judge L. N. Turrentine when attorneys L. W. Blodgett and George Bush, for the city of Huntington Beach refused to argue the motion.

Bush and Blodgett declared they preferred to stand on the court record of February 5 when Judge Turrentine dismissed the city's cross-complaint against the state and later upheld the city's demurrer filed in the case. The city had been made co-defendant in the action against Wilshire Oil company.

The city of Huntington Beach had filed notice of a motion to dismiss the original complaint filed by the state against the city, the attorney general and the director of finance were without authority to prosecute such action, as jurisdiction over the tidelands did not lie with the state.

In their notice Blodgett and Bush, for the city, contended that such jurisdiction was with the city and that removal of oil from the tidelands pool constituted neither trespass, which had been charged, or nuisance.

The city's request for a correction of the records of what happened in court on February 5 will be submitted to Judge Turrentine on briefs as of February 16. Blodgett and Bush claim that no motion for dismissal of the case against the city was made by either the defendant city or the state but the records show that the order for dismissal of the cross-complaint was made by the defendant city.

Attorneys for the city informed the court that they were anxious for an early settlement on the matter of the court record when Judge Turrentine suggested that the matter be continued to February 16 when other matters connected with the state's fight to stop alleged "whistleblowing" of the tideland pool are scheduled for hearing.

Webb Shadle appearing for the department of finance, division of state lands, declared that he was not prepared to argue the point at this time and acceded to the court's suggestion that the matter be set for February 16 and submitted on briefs.

Hearing on the state's complaint seeking an injunction and court order for a survey against five wells operated in the beach field by the Wilshire company and one by the Ambassador Petroleum corporation is scheduled to start February 26. At the same time it is probable that the court will entertain a motion by the state to appoint a receiver for both concerns for the purpose of conserving oil now being produced from the wells named in the complaint and to impound any money obtained through sale of the oil.

The Wilshire Oil company has stipulated that seven more wells may be joined with the action for hearing on that date, making a total of 12 Wilshire wells accused of tapping the state oil pool.

BEAUTY SHOP SUED FOR $1000 DAMAGES

Charging neglect during the process of giving a permanent wave which caused her hair to fall out, Miss Evelyn Mustol, 17, through her mother, Mrs. Marian Mustol, 1246 South Van Ness street has filed suit in justice court for $1000 against Katherine Gillingham, doing business as the French Academy of Beauty Culture.

In the complaint, the young woman asserts that on December 15, 1933, she went to the beauty shop for a permanent wave. She charges that "the defendant, through her agents and employees, selected and applied such liquids to plaintiff's hair and so neglected, managed, controlled and operated the said electrical and other apparatus . . . as to cause her hair to become lifeless and brittle . . . and within 24 hours, large portions broke off and fell out a short distance from the scalp . . . the remaining hair had to be clipped."

The complaint further stated that Miss Mustol appeared socially and in public as a musician and suffered temporary disfigurement, mortification and embarrassment.

Carl Cowles filed the suit for Miss Mustol as attorney.

Local Briefs

Regular monthly meeting of the Orange County American Legion Council will be held at 7 o'clock tonight in the Legion Hut, Costa Mesa, with Commander Claude Potter, of Orange, presiding. The session will start with a dinner.

Judge James B. Tucker left this morning from Los Angeles on a United Airline plane for New York City where he will try a case in district court. He expects to return to Santa Ana by plane immediately after he completes his case.

CORRECTION OF ABUSES OF SOCIAL, ECONOMIC SYSTEM HELD GOAL OF ROOSEVELT

President Roosevelt is attempting to correct the abuses of the present social and economic systems in his "New Deal," and at the present time is not aiming at change of the social and economic system, J. F. Burke told a large audience last night at a meeting of the People's Forum.

"The president is going where he is being pushed by the needs of the hour," the speaker declared. "He will go where conditions press him. He has a deep and abiding interest in the masses of the people and has the manhood and courage to take whatever steps are necessary to help the people."

Looking into the future and examining present trends, Burke asserted that the president eventually will be confronted with three propositions: to turn to direct relief, which means a permanent dole; to continue the CWA program of unproductive work which will become more unproductive as time goes on because productive work has been finished; or to launch a program whereby unemployed persons can do productive work. The latter scheme, of locating unemployed back on the soil and in productive work, would mean competition with private industry, a thing which the present program has tried to avoid, he said.

"Facts are stubborn things," Burke said, "and sometimes they drive me to a different position which I do not enjoy. No man's judgment is better than his information. I would rather have my body poisoned than my mind, with alleged facts which are not true. Whether or not a newspaper agrees with news, the constitutional elements of democracy demand to know what is going on so that if a correction is needed it can be obtained at the ballot box. That is what I have been trying to do as an editor and publisher."

Outlines Cause
The speaker pointed out that Roosevelt took office at probably the direst period the country has even seen, with masses of people unemployed and all national banks suspending operations. "One of the primary causes of our difficulty, if not the primary cause, has been the terrific amount of production, with the decreasing proportion of such production which is going into the hands of the people who produce it," he said. "Those who do not look clear into the elements of it, and who do not see the shoeless, clothesless, foodless millions, call it overproduction. It could be as easily called under-consumption and with more justice. But whatever it may be called, it is a fact that those who produce the very goods are not paid enough to buy back that which they have produced. They have not the wherewithal to purchase. There can be no overproduction in a society in a particular thing until all are supplied with that thing. It is folly to speak of overproduction of cotton when people are hungry. It is folly to speak of overproduction of cotton when people are clothesless. The trouble has been in distribution. "We must learn the laws of the universe and adapt ourselves to them. We have been taught in the past the laws of scarcity of goods, so what do we do? We said all we have to do is to try to get back in a condition of scarcity to make what was called prosperity."

The speaker was applauded when he declared that he would rather have the brain trust help run the country than the so-called practical men who manage to get their hands in the treasury.

Hungry Man Studying
The man who is hungry now is the one that is studying and learning, Burke declared, while the successful business man spends his time with his nose to the grindstone. He pointed out that when the big business men see that President Roosevelt is headed the right way, they will extend their help to make the program a success.

The speaker outlined the theories back of the AAA, NRA and CWA, declaring that critics have declared that the NRA is a reform movement and not a recovery movement, and that what is wanted is recovery, and not reform, or change. They want to get back to the days of profit, he said. He termed the AAA a recovery act designed to put agriculture on a profitable basis. He based his measures adopted to aid banks and homes in the same category. Critics, he said, have claimed that the NRA has interested the government in men's private affairs, and is aimed to correct social injustices by giving the right of collective bargaining and eliminating child labor, as well as attempting to end cut-throat competition.

The speaker called attention to the danger of breaking down the morale of men with non-productive work in the CWA program. He quoted Stuart Chase, eminent economist, to show that the ratio of production per man has been steadily increasing, making it increasingly difficult to solve the unemployment problem.

Collectivism already is being practiced in the United States, Burke declared, pointing to the proration of crops agreements which have been entered into as an example. Strong individualists, he said, prefer to starve rather than work in group activities. He pointed out that the president recognizes the necessity of regulating the size of profits.

Profits and Loans
"Charity is a sideline with most of us," he declared. "And the closer we get to charity the poorer chance we have of borrowing money at banks, because we must show profits on our books. The closer we get to crime the better chance we have of getting loans." He explained the latter statement by saying that business is a fair exchange of the product of one person's hands for the products of another person. When business takes more than this fair share of profit, he asserted, it becomes a crime, though not a legal crime.

"I don't believe in some of the rules of the game," he declared, "but in the present system we must obey the rules. However, if the majority says let's get a better way, I'm for that, too."

During the open forum the speaker was besieged with questions from the audience. He made the following statements during this period:

"It may be better for society, but not better for the present poor, to place the unemployed in productive work. There are some things worse than that, and militarization of the CWA and of the nation would be one of these things. It is difficult to investigate the army. The nation rapidly is headed for state capitalism and it may be possible that in order to conserve the present system the nation may adopt a Fascist government. Danger of a Fascist government is that once powers are turned over to one man, while he may be the right man for the job, the next man may use his position to work injuries to the masses. A movement to hold a testimonial lecture meeting for Walter Thomas Mills, lecturer and Technocracy authority, was launched at the meeting last night.

The speaker of the evening was introduced by Harry S. Gerhart, forum director.

Santa Ana Lodge No. 241, F. & A. M., will hold a social evening with cards, entertainment and refreshments on Friday, February 9, 1934, at 7:30 p. m. A real evening of fellowship is promised. Stag. (Adv.) A. H. ALLEN, W. M.

2 CANDIDATES FOR CITY POSTS FILE PETITIONS

With yesterday the first day for filing nomination papers for city offices in 12 cities in Orange county, but two candidates, one at San Clemente and the other at Orange, had officially declared their intentions today.

The elections will be held April 9. March 20 is the last day for filing papers. The last day for registration is February 28.

At San Clemente, scene of a recall election and a special election last year, A. T. Smith, incumbent councilman, appointed to fill the unexpired term of H. H. Cotton in 1933, filed his nomination papers. Earl Von BonHofst is the only member of the council who will not be up for election. The term of O. R. Robertson, mayor, expires, and the terms of Smith, David G. Kimmy and Monroe Thurman, who were appointees, automatically expire. The term of City Clerk William Homes has two more years to run.

The other candidate is E. H. Ellish, city clerk of Orange, who filed his papers yesterday. Terms of Mayor Clyde Watson and B. F. Dierker expire. It is understood that they will not be candidates for re-election.

At Tustin, the terms of Councilmen E. L. Kiser and F. L. Schwendeman expire. The office of City Clerk J. R. Harbo automatically expires as he is an appointee. The terms of Councilmen L. J. Sheridan, F. A. Youngbluth and M. W. Martinet, Jr. at Anaheim expire this spring, as does that of J. E. Price, who is serving the unexpired term of E. B. Merritt.

In Fullerton, Bert Annin and W. B. Potter are the retiring councilmen. City Clerk Hosmahalch has two more years to serve. The terms of Councilmen A. J. Wilson, J. T. Frazier and H. S. Lytle, City Clerk A. C. Earley and City Treasurer Louis Muchow expire in La Habra.

E. M. Everett, city councilman of Placentia, announced today that he will not be a candidate for re-election.

The terms of Councilmen A. J. Wilson, J. T. Frazier and H. S. Lytle, City Clerk A. C. Earley and City Treasurer Louis Muchow expire in La Habra.

E. M. Everett, city councilman of Placentia, announced today that he will not be a candidate for re-election.

The terms of Arthur Schallow and Howard Jerome also expire this spring. The city clerk, Mrs. Nellie Cline, has two more years.

Councilmen O. S. Close, Frank Schweitzer and W. C. Baldwin are expected to be candidates for reelection to the Brea council, according to reports today.

At Laguna Beach, the terms of J. E. Bishop, M. B. McMillan and C. E. Clapp expire.

A. J. Garfield and Lloyd Claire, Newport Beach councilmen, are expected to be candidates for reelection this spring, according to reports today.

Huntington Beach will elect three councilmen and city treasurer, the term of Bayard Butcher expiring. The terms of Councilmen T. B. Talbert, C. H. King and Ed. B. Stevens expire this spring. City Clerk C. R. Furr has two more years in office.

At Seal Beach, A. E. Walker, Tim Hussey and Festus Steen are the retiring councilmen.

BOY SCOUTS OF ORANGE COUNTY TO MOBILIZE

To participate in the nation-wide mobilization of Boy Scouts who will convene tomorrow to receive by radio an assignment to national service from President Roosevelt in Washington, Boy Scouts of Orange county will be called together at three points in the county at 8:45 o'clock tomorrow morning, it was announced today by Harrison E. White, county scout executive.

Scouts in the southern part of the county will mobilize at the Broadway theater, where, through the courtesy of Les Fountain, manager of the theater, the Scouts will receive their assignment via radio. Fountain also has arranged to stage a special show for the Boy Scouts which will be given without cost.

Boy Scouts in the northern part of the county will assemble at the Fullerton Fox theater, and boys in the central part of the county will meet at the Anaheim Fox theater. There are about 1600 boys in the county engaged in scouting work. Last year more than 1,800,000 men and boys were members of the Boy Scouts of America.

The mobilization climaxes the present week, observed throughout the nation as Boy Scout Week. What service the president will request of the Boy Scouts still remains a mystery and will be a secret until his voice is heard on the air. His voice will be broadcast in the Broadway theater here at 8 a. m. tomorrow.

ASK FURTHER INVESTIGATION AND PROOF OF PRACTICABILITY IN PROPOSED LAND-TAX TRADE

Declaration that insufficient evidence had been presented to show that the proposal to exchange acreage of the Sunny Hills ranch as payment of delinquent taxes totaling approximately $110,000, was practical, and suggestion that further investigation is needed before any portion of land is accepted for a partial flood control program, were made at a conference of interested parties in Fullerton yesterday.

As a consequence a special committee was appointed by the Fullerton Chamber of Commerce board of directors after the meeting, to study all phases of their proposal that the ranch acreage be exchanged in payment of delinquent taxes. The committee is composed of A. B. Hillbold, president of the chamber, Walter Humphreys and William Wade.

Representatives of three tax bodies, city, elementary school and high school, who were present at the conference, speaking as individuals, expressed their opinion that the proposition was impractical, but each expressed the idea that could such a proposition be worked out, considering all the ramifications, they might consider it.

Work Hardship

Supervisor LeRoy Lyon, of the third district, in which the land in question is located, said that personally he feared that acceptance of land in lieu of delinquent taxes might be setting a dangerous precedent that would work a hardship on small property holders, and that he felt that further investigation would be needed before any portion of land is accepted for a partial flood control program. He declared his personal opinion is that a county wide flood control plan is the most feasible solution.

Difficulties suggested by members of the boards of trustees of the city, elementary school and high school districts were the proportional division of the tax money in land to the various tax bodies; consideration of other districts in which the land lies; and setting of a precedent in accepting such an offer.

A suggestion of President Hillbold that "The Chamber has opened the way and would like some suggestion from all bodies," and asking that each body appoint a member for study of the problems brought the counter proposal that the chamber present the carefully worked out details of the entire problem to the various bodies for their consideration. This resulted in the appointment of the committee.

Plan Sub-Division

In his opening talk Hillbold suggested that the county take its share in the proposed land trade in land that could be used for flood control; that the grammar school district take its share in sites for a new school, since the plans also include a sub-division and possibility that a school will be needed according to Howard Irwin; and the high school and junior college take its share in land that could be used for a future junior college site.

Attending and participating, besides the chamber representatives, were LeRoy Lyon, supervisor; Mayor William Hale, and Councilmen Bert Annin, Red Corcoran and T. K. Gowen; Trustees John Shiller, E. A. Walker, L. H. Stewart and Claude Ridgeway of the high school board, and Louis Plummer and Dean W. T. Boyce; Dr. Jesse Chilton of the elementary board, and Ray E. Green, superintendent of schools.

The land in question was purchased by the Sunny Hills ranch corporation at a cost of approximately $245 per acre.

MERCHANTS TO STAGE TWO DAY FASHION SHOW

Definite plans for staging a fashion show on February 23 and 24 were made at a meeting of the merchandising committee of the Santa Ana Merchants Association today, it was announced by A. Cavalli, manager.

The fashion show is one of a number of activities planned for the spring and summer season, it was announced. It was arranged by the committee, which has authority to make plans, to stage the fashion show in local stores.

Women's shops, men's clothing and shoe stores, will stage the unique fashion shows in store windows or inside local stores. Many innovations were promised by merchants of the city.

"The style show will give women of Orange county an opportunity to see and buy merchandise that is up to the minute, smart and in some cases ultra-fashionable," Cavalli declared in announcing the plans.

"It will give shoppers an insight into future styles. Any man or woman that is in search of something different should be easily satisfied if they attend the style show these two days because they will be red-letter days in fashion and value for Santa Ana."

"One well-known merchant stated that he has some very unusual styles coming from Los Angeles, Hollywood and New York. These fashions will give women of Santa Ana and Orange county advanced styles they have not yet seen. Shop windows will take on a Parisian atmosphere."

Other merchandising events will follow the fashion show, Cavalli announced.

S. A. CHESS CLUB WINS FIFTH GAME

Santa Ana's Y. M. C. A. Chess club played its seventh match in the schedule of the Southern California Chess League in the "Y" clubrooms last night, defeating the Los Angeles Exposition Park club by a score of 6 to 2.

Of the seven matches played so far by the Santa Ana club, five have been won, one was lost and another was a draw, placing the local club in second place in the league. Riverside is leading and is scheduled to meet the Santa Ana team March 8.

A feature of the play last night was the game between A. E. Collins of Santa Ana and D. Laxineta of Exposition which was won by Collins in 10 moves with a Muzio Gambit.

The score:

TOASTMASTERS CLUB TABOOS SOCIAL AFFAIRS

The El Camino Toastmasters club voted to ban social events at a meeting held last night, the opinion being expressed that the purpose of the club is for personal improvement and study and social events should not be allowed to interfere with the purpose.

S. L. Boucher was present as the newest member of the club, Lyle B. Mitchell, R. S. Pyle, Charles Brisco and D. G. Tidball, in the order named, are on the waiting list.

It was announced that election of officers will be held the last meeting this month and it was decided that no officer should succeed himself or be a candidate for any other office. Don Rice was named chairman of the nominating committee.

Ralph Smedley gave procedure, methods and rules of debating prior to the holding of the first club debate next Thursday night when G. F. Lawrence will be toastmaster. Subject of the debate is: "Resolved that married women, with husbands able to provide, should not be employed in public positions." M. Macurda, Eddie Weidner and H. E. Whipple will support the affirmative and Wally Noble, Roy Coleman and Dick Whitney the negative.

Last night Lewis Williams discussed the sales tax, Gus Allen production, Allison Honer income taxes, Ernest Layton monuments seen on a recent trip, and Guy Penn told the value of attendance. Critics were Dick Whitney, Ernest S. Wooster and George Lawrence, with J. R. Geraghty of the Los Angeles Toastmasters club as general critic.

MIX FILM, PREVIEW AT STATE TONIGHT

A big double attraction will be offered by Walker's State theater tonight when a special double preview is shown besides the regular feature, "Hidden Gold," starring Tom Mix, Western favorite, and his famous pony, Tony.

The studio preview will go on the screen at 8:45 p. m. Manager Victor Walker announced, and will be shown in addition to the Tom Mix picture and selected shorts, including a comedy, cartoon, serial and news reel.

"Hidden Gold" is an unusual Western, and the forest fire scene is said to be the most spectacular ever shown on the screen. The cast includes such well known players as Judith Barrie, Raymond Hatton and Eddie Griffin.

PARTY ENJOYED BY BREA O. E. S. GROUP

BREA, Feb. 9.—Brothers' night was observed by Brea chapter of the Eastern Star this week. The entertainment followed the regular meeting of the chapter at which Mrs. Maude Sayles, worthy matron, presided.

The committee headed by Charles Miller, who was assisted by Robert G. Russell, worthy patron, Alford Clayton and L. A. Sayles, had arranged a typical hobo camp as the setting for the social. Rooks and sticks formed a simulated fireplace over which a huge kettle of mulligan stew and a blackened coffee pot boiled. In the background a hobo's wash was on the line and a quantity of large tumble weeds lying about lent a realistic touch.

The stew was served with coffee and crackers at tables where pieces of the "tummies" served as tablecloths, and candles thrust into rusty cans filled with sand gave the only light. Mrs. Lina Russell favored with two readings, C. O. Harvey sang two songs and Champ Nixon played two saxophone numbers. Miss Cecile Templeman accompanied for the musical numbers.

STEVENS AND WIVES CHARGE JENKINS OPEN CRUELTY AND NEW GROCERY ASK ALIMONY

Formal opening of a new grocery in the Golden West Market, 417 West Fourth street, will be staged tomorrow, it was announced today.

The grocery will be operated by George H. Stevens, resident of Santa Ana for the past seven years, and George W. Jenkins, who has been here for the past 15 years and who was connected with the Alpha Beta stores for nine years.

A complete stock of nationally advertised goods of high class merchandise has been installed by the grocery. The store will be operated as a home-owned, self-service institution, it was announced.

Prices will be kept as low as possible, it was stated, and goods are purchased through a large co-operative marketing concern.

With the addition of the grocery department, the market now offers complete marketing service, including a meat market, a vegetable stand and bakery and delicatessen.

RELIGIOUS LEADER TO SPEAK TONIGHT

Miss Constance J. Brandon, international secretary of the World Dominion movement, will speak tonight at Berean hall, 407 Fruit street, under auspices of Calvary church, according to the Rev. Frank E. Lindgren, pastor of the church.

Miss Brandon, who is touring America, will speak on the subject, "The Call of the Hour—Evangelize or Perish." She has just returned from Great Britain where she organized the revival campaigns of the Rev. Lionel B. Fletcher and will tell of the revival there when more than 4000 young men and women signed decision cards. The World Dominion movement, represented by Miss Brandon, stands for evangelism, world survey and New Testament principles of missionary work.

Two wives have filed suit for divorce in superior court and asked that all community property be awarded them in addition to alimony. One wife in her complaint alleges that her husband locked her out of their home. The other wife named another woman.

Mrs. Lella Beatrice Dieckman is suing Eli Edward Dieckman of La Habra accusing him of cruelty. She alleges that her husband was sullen and morose when at home. She charges that her husband told her to "get out and go home to her father" and that he would pay her well to get rid of her. On February 1, last, she alleges that her husband purchased a padlock and put it on the front door of their home and said that he was going to lock her out. On the same day, according to the complaint he told the butcher not to sell her any more meat and charge it to him.

Community property listed by Mrs. Dieckman consists of the family home in La Habra, $1100 in the bank, 75 shares of Standard Oil common stock, an automobile and an interest in 10 acres of land in San Bernardino county. She also alleges that there is now standing in the name of both parties as joint tenants 40 shares of capital stock of the Standard Oil company which belong to her.

Mrs. Mary Haldane is suing Orton Haldane, packing house foreman for Betz Packing company at Olive, charging cruelty and naming Tony Bear as "the other woman." The Haldanes were married in Seaford, England, in 1917. In her complaint Mrs. Haldane charges that while they were living in British Columbia in 1921 her husband acquired the drink habit and has been intoxicated almost every week and since then. When intoxicated, she charges, her husband called her vile names. She alleges that on August 1, 1932, he came home intoxicated, called her vile names and ordered her to leave home. The next day, she alleges he and the "other woman" moved into an apartment in Orange.

P. T. A. To Hold Card Party Soon

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO, Feb. 9.—Members of the P. T. A. met Wednesday at 2 o'clock at the grammar school. Mrs. Hazel Cady, vice president, conducted the business meeting in the absence of the president, Mrs. Dolly Cook. The resignation of the secretary, Mrs. Walter Hill, who is moving to the middle west, was accepted, and Mrs. Carl Stroschein was appointed to fill the vacancy for the remainder of the year.

The first grade with Mrs. Avon Smith as teacher, received a plant for their room as a prize for having the most mothers attending the meeting. Plans were discussed for a benefit card party to be given in the near future. The first and second grade pupils sang two numbers, being accompanied at the piano by Miss Margery Cooper.

PRESENT SACRED MUSIC HERE SUNDAY

Women's Glee Club of Whittier college, under direction of Miss Pauline Terpstra, shown here, will be heard in a concert Sunday night at 7 o'clock in the auditorium of the First Methodist church.

SOCIAL ENJOYED BY CHOIR MEMBERS

ORANGE, Feb. 9.—Members of the Presbyterian church choir were hosts Thursday for former choir members, when they met for a short rehearsal and social time in preparation for the special choir service Sunday night, celebrating the 40th anniversary of the founding of the church.

Following the practice hour, light refreshments, carrying out a valentine motif, were served in the lower auditorium. Those present were, W. K. Richardson, Frank Henderson of Santa Ana; W. S. Ensign, Dr. Chester A. Day, of Tustin; Miss Sue Scarritt, former choir director; George Sliff, Mrs. F. L. Chapline, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. BREA CLUB TOLD OF FOREIGN TRADE

BREA, Feb. 9.—Prof. Tupper of Whittier college was the guest speaker Thursday's meeting of the Brea Lions club, being presented by the program chairman, John Daugherty.

Tupper, after first bringing greetings from Dr. Dexter, formerly president of the college and now governor of district No. 4, gave a talk on South America and her relations in trade markets, industrial enterprises and exchanges with the United States. More American capital is invested in South America, the speaker declared, than in all of Europe.

Ralph Barron, president, presided at the business session of the club when Dr. John Holland gave a report of the district meeting held in Fresno last month.

Next week's program will be entirely devoted to community interests, with W. D. Shaffer and others scheduled to report on activities of the business restoration committee. J. B. Phillips will be the program chairman. Each Lion is to bring a Brea guest.

ORANGE PERSONALS

Mr. and Mrs. N. J. Whitney, of North Pine street, attended a family turkey dinner Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Koeler of Alhambra. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. C. Gether, Mrs. M. DINNER HELD BY FRIENDSHIP CLASS

TUSTIN, Feb. 9.—Approximately 55 members of the Friendship Bible class, together with their families, shared a 6:30 o'clock pot-luck dinner and program in the Presbyterian church social hall this week. Mr. and Mrs. John W. Sauer, Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Hibbet, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Gorton and Mrs. Frank H. Greenwood were in charge of arrangements. Decorations for the affair featured the valentine motif.

Numbers on the program included community singing led by Dr. C. A. Day; vocal selections by Florence Rittner, accompanied by Miss Genevieve Easton; vocal duets by Miss Lorraine Ebel and Miss Wilma Kellams, accompanied by Mrs. Day; guitar numbers by Genevieve Bowen and Luis Ebel; readings by Miss Shillings.

During the business session, at which the president, J. B. Gorton, presided, it was voted to continue to hold the dinner program meetings each month as formerly.

A game, featuring valentine limbo, under the supervision of Mrs. Sauer, was enjoyed as a climax to the pleasant evening.

CONDUCT FUNERAL OF MRS. M. D. COGER

BUENA PARK, Feb. 9.—Funeral services were held in the Congregational church Thursday for Mrs. Maudie Coger, 44, wife of Marvin D. Coger, who passed away Tuesday evening after an extended illness. The Rev. LaRue C. Watson, pastor of the Congregational church in which Mrs. Coger has been an active worker, officiated.

Mrs. Coger is survived by her husband, one son, Wayne Coger, and her mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Dillahunty, and a brother, Frank Dillahunty, of Huntsville, Ark. WOMEN'S GLEE NATIONAL HEAD CLUB TO SING OF LEGION MAY SUNDAY NIGHT VISIT S. A. POST

Under direction of Miss Pauline Terpstra the Women's Glee club of Whittier college will present a sacred concert Sunday night at the First Methodist church of this city. The concert will start at 7 o'clock.

The glee club featuring a chorus of 24 voices will offer ensemble numbers, trios, duets, vocal and instrumental solos and readings. Following are the program features to be offered:

Chorus, "Break Forth O Beautiful Heavenly Light" (Bach); "What E'er May Vex or Grieve Thee" (Bach); duet, "Hark, Hark My Soul" (Martha Haase, soprano and Gretchen Mae Evans, contralto); chorus, "Glory to God in the Highest" (Pergolesi); contralto solo, "Repent Ye" (Scott); Gretchen Mae Evans.

Chorus, "A May Night" (Brahms); "A Bird Flew" (Cloc); reading, "Ola Florence Welch"; trio, "Lift Thine Eyes" (Mendelssohn); Martha Haase, soprano; Genevieve Joy, mezzo-soprano; Gretchen Mae Evans, contralto; chorus, "How Beautiful Upon the Mountain" (Harker); Martha Haase, soprano soloist; chorus, "Jesus Rose of Sharon" (Gabriel); "Lord I Want to Be a Christian" (Spiritual); instrumental solo, selected; chorus, "Praise the Lord Ye Heavens Adore Him" (Handel).

Capistrano Club Sponsors Dance

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO, Feb. 9.—Members of the local Women's club are sponsoring a valentine dance Saturday night in the high school auditorium. As a special feature for the evening, Miss Louise Goble, of Santa Ana, will conduct her dancing pupils through a series of solo and group dances between 8:30 and 9 o'clock.

Featured by the presence of more than 150 members of the post, a meeting of Santa Ana American Legion Post No. 131 was held last night in Giddy hall on East Fourth street.

The highlight of the business session was a report made by Bert Casteix, chairman of the post membership committee, who reported that National Commander A. B. Hayes will be in this vicinity and will visit the post in this section which had reached or passed its membership quota.

Commander Hayes, Casteix said, will visit either Riverside, San Bernardino or Santa Ana post, depending on which one reaches or passes its membership quota on February 15. Casteix pointed out that the Santa Ana post has already passed its quota by a substantial number, whereas neither of the other posts has reached its quota at this time. He said there is a good chance that the national commander will visit the Santa Ana post because of this fact.

Following the business meeting, a program of entertainment was staged under the sponsorship of the drum and bugle corps with Ernest Winblier acting as master of ceremonies.

The program included accordion numbers by Eugene Frisby, 10-year-old son of E. E. Frisby; piano numbers by Glen Cave Jr., 13-year-old son of Glen Cave Sr.; dance numbers by Elinor Lawrence, nine years old, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Branson; a comedy skit by Comrade Ernie Ashland and the first public appearance of the drum corps octet, comprised of Comrades Householder, Durham, Halber, Lane, Hoover, Hardesty, Hyden and Ashland.

At the conclusion of the entertainment, Harold Brown conducted an entertaining "good of the order" program as a benefit for the drum corps.

Percolator method or Drip method. Take your choice, but whichever method you prefer, be sure to buy the proper coffee for it. The methods are so different that a different coffee is required for each.

In a drip coffee maker, boiling water drips ONLY ONCE through a coffee specially prepared to yield its flavor QUICKLY. In a percolator, water passes many times through a coffee prepared to yield its flavor SLOWLY. The same coffee can be used for both methods, but like a "jack-of-all-trades" it is "master of none"—neither drip nor percolator. In one or the other, little things happen. It's a little weak, or a little strong, or a little cloudy, or it has a little less flavor. It's these little things that make or mar good coffee. Be sure to use the correct coffee for each method.

Your grocer has two Schilling Coffees, identical in flavor, but each is specially prepared for its purpose—each one different in blend, roast and grind.

OLDFIELD WILL TELL OF FAST STARTING CARS

The ninth broadcast of Barney Oldfield and his Plymouth Oldfield will be broadcast at 8:40 tonight. KREG, relating new stories of interesting experiences had by this famous race driver.

He will speak of the time he first drove a car 75 miles per hour, a car that none was allowed to see before the race. The Oldfield was the originator of the "flying start" in automobile races, and he will compare the "get-away" ability of cars of those days to 1934 models.

Brief talks by Barney Oldfield may be heard on KREG each Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 8:40 p. m. and on Sundays at 8:45 p. m.

STALIN TO BE DISCUSSED ON KREG TONIGHT

Joseph Stalin, the boss of the Soviet Union, will be the first personality to be described in tonight's broadcast of "People Who Make News" from KREG at 7:30. "So-So" the pet name for Stalin, given to him by his mother, made the headlines last week by standing up in the Kremlin, waving his arm and announcing that enemies "had better keep their swinish snouts out of the Soviet potato patch." A description of his headquarters and something of his history will be given. His Russian history will be next on the descriptive broadcast, and listeners will hear how he got through the lower house of the Polish parliament a new constitution which will make him dictator in law as well as in fact.

Other "People Who Make News" will include Frank Hawks, the speed flyer, who plans to peddle bombers to the Chinese government; Mrs. Gifford Pinchot, wife of the Governor of Pennsylvania, who was making more misery last week for greedy and ruthless employers by joining the picket line of laundry workers in Brooklyn. The News-Quiz will conclude the broadcast.

NORTH DAKOTA PLAN OUTLINED IN FORUM TALK

Fullerton, Feb. 9.—Graft in politics is the same thing as profit in business, Dr. Walter Thomas Mills declared last night at the close of a lecture on "Progress of Non-Partisan Government in the Northwest." He talked at the Fullerton forum.

His definition of graft in politics and profit in business is "a share of receipts in excess of a salary." His conclusion followed a talk on the development in the north-west and at Muscle Shoals of living conditions that have grown out of non-partisan government methods. North Dakota owns mills that provide flour at one dollar a barrel less than privately owned corporations. It has yielded to the government $125,000 in excess of cost over a period of eight months, he said.

Plans of North Dakota to fit up a system wherein all people are put to work on supplying their own need has been approved by the government at Washington, and six surrounding states are joining in a similar petition to Washington, said, Norris City, at Muscle Shoals, is being built with town lots being sold; with no deeds being issued; no mortgages on property, no absentee ownership, and on a basis that "you cannot have this land that belongs to Uncle Sam unless you are using it," the speaker said.

Dr. Mills said this policy, approved by Roosevelt, advised by Washington in his farewell address, a "non partisan" government plan, is similar to the one offered by Upton Sinclair, candidate for governor on the democratic ticket. He added that the plan of Sinclair has been approved in North Dakota and has the verbal commendation of Mrs. Roosevelt.

Next week Capt. Don Wilkie, Laguna Beach, will talk at the forum. The week following, Dr. Mills will talk on "Washington's Farewell Address." The meeting will be on the date of Washington's birthday anniversary. Charles Ruby introduced the speaker.

BEAN GROWERS HEAR EXPERTS AT INSTITUTE

More than 100 Orange county bean growers today had profited from a series of lectures given by authorities in the bean growing field given during the third annual Orange County Bean Growers Institute, held at Community Hall, Tustin, under auspices of the extension service of the University of California in cooperation with the bean growers department of the Orange County Farm Bureau.

Technical and production factors of the bean industry were discussed during the morning session, and economic aspects received attention during the afternoon session. John W. Crill, past president of the Farm Bureau, was the featured speaker at the luncheon meeting, discussing the value of the Farm Bureau to bean growers of the county.

Eric E. Easman, assistant farm adviser, was in charge of arrangements for the institute. He introduced J. A. Murdy Jr., chairman of the bean growers department of the Farm Bureau, who outlined the program.

In the morning session, principles of soil mixture and irrigation methods were explained by J. B. Brown, extension specialist in irrigation, of the University of California. The progress of thresher injury to lima beans was discussed by Prof. H. A. Borthwick, of the Davis college of agriculture. A progress report on the control of the bean pod borer was made by Dr. Rodney Cecil, of the U. S. department of agriculture, Ventura.

Roy E. Campbell of the U. S. department of agriculture, Alhambra, who was scheduled to discuss studies on wire worms, control, was not able to be present at the session. Dr. C. E. Scott, specialist in plant pathology, of the extension service, scheduled to make a talk on bean diseases, was not present. His topic was taken up by J. Lee Hewitt, deputy agricultural commissioner of Orange county, who discussed diseases and pests on lima beans in Orange county. Seed improvement by breeding and selection was explained by Prof. W. W. Mackie of the Davis college.

During the afternoon session, the agricultural adjustment act and the relation to the bean industry was explained by Dr. W. C. Ockey of the agricultural extension service, Berkeley. Price and market outlook for lima beans were discussed by R. L. Churchill, manager of the California Lima Bean Growers association, Oxnard.

Dear Santa Ana Register:
Do you know that less than 60 years ago, our city had no means of communication with the outside world except by stage or water?

I believe it was not until 1875 that the first railroad constructed by the Southern Pacific company arrived in Los Angeles.

The stage running between San Francisco and San Diego passed through Santa Ana and we had a service of twice weekly.

Mr. W. H. Spurgeon was postmaster having received his commission dated at Washington, D. C., on July 5, 1870. The office was located in his store which stood on the west side of Broadway just south of where Fourth street intersected that street. None of Santa Ana's streets ran farther west than Broadway at that time.

When the mail arrived the clerk, usually Mr. Granville Spurgeon, would open the pouch and call the names of those addressed aloud and the recipients would answer.

If the rightful owner was not present a neighbor would take it and deliver it to the owner. Mail uncalled for was placed in a box and the public would come in, look through the box and help themselves to their mail.

I don't think there were to exceed a half dozen letters on the arrival of each stage.

I wish to state that everything I have said is from my personal experience and absolutely from memory as I have never kept a diary.

WHAT WOMEN CAN DO to PROMOTE PEACE

By Mrs. Penrose Lyly

"THE perpetual insurance of peace—a solid body of sentiment against war," Mrs. Henry Morgenthau, Jr., wife of the Secretary of the Treasury, regards this goal as a most vital one to women who value their homes and their husbands. Speaking to the women of America recently, she assured them women can play a great part in keeping this country on the road to peace.

"But we must build up a solid body of sentiment against war," she adds.

The hatred of war, very much like charity, should begin at home. Mrs. Morgenthau urged women to boycott business which might prosper through the supply of munitions. But many other women, in their humbler station and horse sense, know that there are other ways to get the war ideas, now so much in the air, out of their husbands' restless heads. Some of their ideas are presented here.

Listen to this comment from a practical wife of 35, who lives in Indiana with her engineer husband.

"Yes, he talks about going to war, should we have one, as though it were like going to a big party," she says. "Thinks he will look a lot more attractive to women in a smart uniform than he does in his worn out clothes.

"When he puts on a uniform, I just lock my bedroom door and keep it locked until he asks me to hand out his old business suit again . . . and he pipes down with all his silly talk about being a soldier."

"Yes, we've had a terribly hard time financially the past few years. Bob is restless. Feels he has lost something—something men always dream of secretly, you know—that male 'it,' that physical dash which women fall for.

"So he hopes for a war—then he can be a dashing hero with leggings, tight-fitting uniform and a devil-may-care way with women.

"What do I tell him? He's a nice fellow and I'm crazy about him. But when he puts on a uniform, I just lock my bedroom door and keep it locked until he asks me to hand out his old business suit again. Yes, he knows that I mean it and I notice he pipes down on all his silly talk about being a soldier."

That's an Indiana answer to war and rumors of war. Peace begins at home, you see.

Amelia Earhart, you remember, thought it would be a good idea to make women go as soldiers and wear men's uniforms. Not a bad idea. Most women look buncchy around the hips in male attire. But a little bride of less than two months, living in Pittsburgh with her handsome young man, has an even more practical idea.

"I think all women should insist—and we could, you know, if we all got together—that the moment anyone declared war, every good tailor in this country should be interned," she says. "Why? Can't you guess? Can you imagine what the army would look like if all the men had to wear uniforms made by their wives? Would they be so eager to march before the ladies?

"No—the poor silly little boys, they are too proud of their figures."

"Give the boys the loud laugh." That's another answer to Mrs. Morgenthau's plea that women help banish the threat of war from their homes.

"My tall, blond brute thinks he's quite a man. So he is. But I tell him right before the children"—this is the statement of a brilliant young woman with three children, who has helped her husband establish himself in his profession—"yes, right before our youngsters I tell him that if he ever goes marching away with a brass band leading him, I'll stand at the window with the children, point to him, and say to his two sons and his daughter—"Look, there goes your father—the damned fool."

ONE DRESS WILL DO—IF YOU BUY ACCESSORIES WISELY

PUT most of your money into one handsome, well-made dress. Spend the rest of your clothes allowance on smart accessories. In this way you will always appear at your best—and can appear differently every time you change your accessories. It's an effective stunt, and also an economical one.

The girl in the photograph wears a brown velvet dress accented by a burnt orange velvet belt. With this costume, she wears five strands of small gold beads in a necklace and also in a bracelet. The earrings are leaf-shaped in gold.

Should she feel like a decided change in costume, she might wear over this same dress some of the sophisticated jewelry in sparkling white and gold etched glass. These accessories are extremely modern versions of old-fashioned jewelry. They come also in brilliant deep red, greens and blues.

Should she feel like playing the part of a chaste, aloof young thing, then with this same dress she would wear accessories made of small, delicate imitation pearls, fashioned into some of the new and bewitching designs.

Mrs. Penrose Lyly is glad to answer questions about her page. Address your queries to the editor of this newspaper. Please be sure that each letter is accompanied by a three-cent stamped, self-addressed envelope.

CHEAP AND TASTY RECIPES FOR WINTER MEALS

IF the more usual green vegetables in the markets seem too high right now for your food budget, these recipes will probably answer your menu problems.

Bananas can be served as a vegetable. Try this recipe which originated in Honolulu. It's unusually good and requires very little watching.

For 6 servings, use 6 medium sized bananas. Remove the skins, scrape the bananas, and cut into thirds, crosswise. In a large frying pan, melt 1½ tablespoons butter. Add the bananas. Saute for 4 minutes, turning gently.

Sprinkle with 2 teaspoons chopped parsley and 1 teaspoon chopped onion. Turn gently and cook another 10 minutes. Serve immediately. They must be piping hot to be at their best.

Baked bananas are good, too. Use 6 for 6 servings. Remove skin and scrape. Cut in halves, crosswise.

Use a baking dish. Place the bananas in, sprinkle with ¼ cup orange juice, 2 tablespoons brown sugar, ½ teaspoon cinnamon and dot with 1 tablespoon butter. Bake slowly for 1 hour. Simple, unusual and will please everyone, even though it is a cheap "vegetable" dish.

A salad course can be the vegetable course, you know. There is no law of health against serving your vegetables cold. So try this delicious beet salad. It serves 6.

Cook 6 large beets carefully. Cook, then remove the skins. When cold, scoop out of each beet a pocket. Chop the part you scooped out and mix it with 2 hard-boiled eggs well chopped. Add also 1 chopped green pepper. Moisten this mixture with a little mayonnaise and season with a dash of cayenne pepper and a few drops of lemon juice. Return to the pockets in the beets. Serve on lettuce leaves and pass mayonnaise with it.

Kidney beans are cheap. But they cook up into some of the most satisfying dishes the human appetite could crave. Try this one some raw and gusty night.

Soak 1 cup kidney beans in cold water for 8 hours. Drain and boil in fresh cold water for 1 hour. Drain again.

Into a large frying pan put 4 slices of bacon and 2 small onions thinly sliced. When the bacon begins to fry add 1 small green pepper well chopped. Shake a little red pepper onto this and fry all until the vegetables just begin to brown. Then slowly add 1 cup thick canned tomatoes, salt, and the beans.

Stir well, then add 1 cup of the water in which the beans were boiled. Simmer all this—simmer, remember, do not cook rapidly—until the beans grow tender.

WHAT YOU CAN DO TO THAT ALCOVE

HAVE you a bow window or alcove in your living room? If so, why not turn it into a gay game room, as shown in the photograph below?

With the help of sheet mirror, now being used extensively to add light and decorative brilliance to interiors, you can achieve an extra room for your house very easily and inexpensively. This arrangement, designed by Ross Stewart, covers the alcove walls with sheet mirrors. Venetians are used on the windows under sheer curtains, and the Chippendale chairs are in red lacquer upholstered in white and gold brocatelle.

If You Don't Keep Your Nails Healthy, Your Hands Can't Be Good-Looking

BEAUTIFUL fingernails are always healthy. No matter how many pastes or polishes you apply, you cannot have your nails look the way you want them to unless you take as much care of their health as you do of the coloring and shape. Nails, strange as it may seem to you, can get sick.

Here are some of the more easily recognized signs of "sickness" in the nails. White spots, ridges, brittleness that makes them crack and split, and softness so pronounced that they tear easily. Look at your nails. Are they healthy? Or do they show signs of needing a little doctoring?

The following health routine will do wonders for you if you give it time and follow it faithfully. If your nails are sick, better give up liquid polish until they are healthy again. Twice a week do this:

Soak your hands in suds and lukewarm water. Choose that soap just as carefully as you would for your face. Get yourself some reliable cuticle remover. Wind a small bit of cotton about an orange stick. Dip it into the cuticle remover.

Gently—yes, very gently—push back the cuticle on each finger. Gently, remember. Rinse off the soapy water and dry your hands.

Now for a little massage. Yes, an actual massage for the nails. You need a high grade cuticle oil for this. Massage it carefully into the base of the nail and entirely around the edge of the cuticle. Push firmly but gently, and keep at it for at least one minute on each finger. It takes time—but it pays.

Next apply tissue cream to hands, and massage it in well over the nails with the same motions you use when you snug on a pair of gloves. After this, wash your hands again and rinse them in cold water. Dry thoroughly and apply a little hand lotion. Apply a little nail whitener under the nails, but use one which has no bleaching agent in it which might cause the quick to dry.

If your nails are in a decidedly unhealthy condition, use a paste polish instead of a liquid polish. When their health has returned, you can safely return to the liquid polish if you prefer it.

Follow this routine from beginning to end twice a week. But if the nails are very brittle, use the cuticle oil every night.

To make sure of this routine, you might indulge your fingernails—and your general appearance—in a new and reasonably priced manicure set. It is compact, handsomely made and contains all the things referred to in this health care routine.

RECOVERY OF $6500 SOUGHT IN COURT CASE

Recovery of $6555 allegedly paid on the purchase price for two units in a 900 acre orange and olive grove in Butte county is being sought in a suit filed in superior court by D. J. McCarthy, Anaheim rancher. The suit names as defendants, H. G. Meiser, Fullerton rancher, Lorin Huffman and F. F. Ford.

In his complaint McCarthy alleges that for the $6555 paid the trio for the ranch unit he received nothing of value and further alleges that at the time the sale was made to secure a permit to sell stock or shares as required under the state Corporate Securities act.

McCarthy charged in his complaint that the defendants on March 28, 1928, entered into a contract as vendees with the Oroville Orange and Olive Grove and Mary A. Hammond, as vendors, to purchase the 900 acre grove for a total purchase price of $525,000. It is alleged in the complaint that the defendants entered into the contract to purchase the grove with the intent to divide their rights and interest in the contract into 100 units or shares valued at $5250 for each unit. The units were to be sold to the general investing public it is alleged with each unit giving the purchaser the right to participate in all profits from the grove. McCarthy charged in his complaint that at the time the defendants sold him two units for a total purchase price of $10,500 they did not have a permit to sell such shares as required by the state. He charges that they either knew such permit was required or should have known of the fact. McCarthy said that he did not learn of the failure to have a permit until November 5, 1931.

YOST WINS AGAIN IN SPEECH CONTEST

Harold Yost, whose speech was judged the best at a meeting held a week ago, again won first place for his talk at the meeting of the Smedley Chapter No. 1 of the Toastmasters club, on "A Great Danger to America," it was announced today.

Herbert Klotzley, in a discussion of the "Failure of Militarism in Europe," won second place with his vivid word picture of the Legion of the Dead from the last World war who died to make the world safe for democracy, to save their fatherland, to end war, etc. This Legion, Klotzley stated, marching day and night 10 abreast, would require four months to pass a given point, yet the major part of Europe is again armed to the teeth ready for another war.

The colorful political parades in Wisconsin during the 90's were recalled by A. G. Green in an impromptu talk.

Roy Cumpston described the groundhog and some of the superstitions regarding his recently scheduled appearance.

Ira Kroese, talking of his school and college experiences, and Tage Carlson, speaking on "Sweden," made their first talks before the club.

William Iverson acted as toastmaster of the evening.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG -- News Behind The News --

WASHINGTON
By George Durno

BITES

A lot of water has gone over the dam since the statute of the proposed new food, drug and cosmetics bill was last discussed in this column.

A powerful lobby is tearing the measure to ribbons bit by bit. Unless the White House takes a hand a feeble bill will be reported out of committee and probably will never reach a final vote.

The first few bites that the pain-and-pain lobby took were anticipated by the Food and Drug Administration, which seems to be standing alone in the fight for the bill. All legislation is a matter of compromise. But those bites have only served to increase the lobby's appetite.

In the original Tugwell bill it was provided that drugs and foodstuffs must have an itemization of their contents printed on the label. As re-written by Senator Copeland—who will steer the bill if it ever gets out of committee—the provision affecting drugs was eliminated. This was done on the complaint that patented formulas would be revealed to chiseling competitors.

The latest bulletin from the batifront indicates that foodstuffs also are going to be exempted. Here again a lobbyist is responsible—this time representing a concern that puts up a concoction of cocoa, dried milk and sugar which is supposed to induce sleep.

TUGWELL

The bill has detoured far from the road that Professor Tugwell mapped and it's a real issue with him. If he doesn't get some strong White House backing soon insiders wouldn't be surprised if he resigned and went back to his classrooms.

WATCH-DOGS

The House Progressive bloc, which functioned so valiantly under Fiorella LaGuardia in the 72nd Congress, may become articulate again before debate on the tax bill ends.

Rep. Paul Kvale, Farmer-Laborite of Minnesota, has inherited LaGuardia's mantle as bloc leader. So far Roosevelt policies have been close enough to the Progressives' own to keep them voting aye.

But now there is disappointment in the little band because estate, gift and corporation taxes weren't liked more.

The Progressives see the merit of Treasury arguments that business should be allowed to recover before being frightened to death with taxes. On the other hand they know that a lot of corporations are dodging taxes through trick bookkeeping and they can't see how heavily increased estate and gift taxes will upset the apple cart.

If existing loopholes in the administrative part of the tax law are closed to big business evaders Kvale and his watch-dogs may sit back and wait a year to make their fight.

If not you'll probably hear them bark in a day or so.

FRANKFURTER

Felix Frankfurter—professor of the Harvard Law School and one of the original Brain Trusters—came to town the other day without the slightest bit of publicity.

But this time he wasn't in Washington to pull any hidden strings and give impetus to the New Deal. He was guest of honor at a quiet little dinner tendered by 18 or 20 of "his boys."

"His boys" are the men Frankfurter has spotted in key positions throughout the government departments. Few people realize what a power behind the throne Frankfurter is.

CRADLE-SONG

Here's the low-down on Senator Hugo L. Black of Alabama, inquisitor into air and ocean mail contracts, as revealed by his wife.

"There sits the big, bad Senator," said Mrs. Black to a friend. "All day he browbeats witnesses, uncovers scandal, corners at the White House and gets himself eight-column headlines. Do you know what his home life is?" "No? Well, I'll tell you. At six o'clock in the evening he comes home and rocks the baby (aged three months) and at two in the morning he gets up and makes a necessary change in the baby's apparel."

NOTES

Kingfish Long seems to be waging a losing fight against the one thing he can't survive—Ridicule. . . . Never let it be said our Department of Agriculture isn't resourceful. . . . Chemists for the Food & Drug Administration have developed a "bite" machine that determines to the nth degree the tenderness of canned fruit and vegetables. . . . Insiders say Prof. Roswell Magill, Secretary Morgenthau's tax expert, has done some smooth missionary work in the Ways and Means Committee.

The White House ordered that suggestions were NOT to be forthcoming on the tax bill until requested but Magill seems to have gotten ideas over by inference. . . . A big laugh goes up at both ends of Pennsylvania Avenue when Japanese statesmen try to explain they must have a bigger navy in order to cement everlasting peace with the United States. . . . The bills to enlarge the United States Air Corps are greased by such utterances from Japan.

NEW YORK

By James McMullin

GOLDSBOROUGH

Congressman Goldsborough's sponsorship of the bill to create a Federal Monetary Authority has several inside angles.

New Yorkers close to the project say it came about this way. The administration is in sympathy with the plan but doesn't want to make an issue of it at present. The first thought was that Chairman Steagall of the House Banking and Currency Committee might act as godfather. That was abandoned because a committee chairman is supposed to be close enough to the administration to permit the opposition to assume a direct tie-up.

Then Goldsborough—next senior to Steagall on the committee—discussed the matter with interested parties here and decided to push it on his own initiative. The administration gave purely passive consent and is not officially involved at all. Insiders say the White House rates this an ideal way to test public sentiment without commitment.

FISHER

It was natural that Professor Irving Fisher should be the first witness called to support the bill although he had nothing to do with its authorship. He and Goldsborough have worked closely together for years and the congressman has several times introduced legislation to give effect to the Professor's ideas.

How far the project gets at this session depends upon public reaction. If the response is enthusiastic watch for an open administration blessing. Otherwise the plan will be modified and introduced later in another guise. Local bankers are waiting for the psychological moment to offer their counter-proposal to strengthen the Federal Reserve Board.

HARRIMAN

The case against the New York Clearing House banks for running out on the Harriman is simmering in preparation for the courts. Some of the banking interests involved tried to stir up sentiment for an out-of-court settlement—which the government would probably have accepted.

But two banks have already turned the idea down flat and it will get nowhere without unanimous support. Their directors figured an out-of-court adjustment now would put them in the wrong forever in the public's eyes. Some of them sincerely believe they have a legitimate defense.

Law circles involved are offering three to one and better that the banks win the case—"if the courts stick to the legal issues." They privately admit their calculations may be upset by the intrusion of public sentiment.

PREPARATIONS

Insiders here say that Russia has practically completed double-tracking the railroad to Vladivostok and has moved half a million men to the Manchukuan line—just in case. It's also significant that the Sovjets have concentrated their air force where it can fly to Japan and back in eighteen hours. A few bombers could raise plenty of hell with the flimsy wooden structures prevalent in Japan.

Japan is reported worried about her oil supply. She gets about 75 per cent of it from us. Her navy would be in a stew if it happened to decide on embargo measures. The chances of that are virtually nil but it does no harm to let the Japanese fret.

RECOVERY

Local industrial experts state that Japanese recovery is mainly due to a war industries boom. Steel profits have quadrupled in the past 18 months. They add that the boom would fold up in a hurry if the demand for war materials subsided.

SUCCESSOR

New Yorkers with good Soviet connections say that Kaganovitch is the man to watch as Stalin's probable successor. Kaganovitch is Assistant Secretary to the Central Executive Committee of the Communist Party and is practically unknown outside of Russia. He has recently built up a powerful personal following at the Kremlin with Stalin's knowledge—and some say with his aid.

FEUD

The feud between Prussian Premier Goering and Propaganda Minister Goebbels grows hotter.

The plan to divide Germany into eighteen provinces—which would strip Goering of his present powerful position—was Goebbels' brain child.

All German papers ran editorials on Goering's recent birthday. The one in Dr. Goebbels' own paper ended with the line: "We hope that Goering will do big things for Germany—always as a faithful vassal of Hitler." The emphasis was by Goebbels' order. The warning could not have been more pointed.

CRIME

"The lass who loved a sailor" is out of luck in Russia. Five Russian maids were recently sent to prison in Archangel for the crime of having accepted silk stockings from foreign gobs. The judge sternly pointed out that the gals came from capitalist countries and that Soviet girls are not allowed to love capitalists.

DELIGHTS

Ruth Bryan Owen may soon have a British counterpart. . . . The British government has appointed a special committee to study the admission of women to the consular and diplomatic services. . . . Of all places the Virgin Islands have blossomed out with a New York press agent. . . . The new investment banking code to be announced shortly puts the official frown on "preferred lists." . . . Wall street says that's one headline Pecoras of the future won't get.

School District To Name Trustee

WESTMINSTER, Feb. 9.—The school election for Westminster district is announced for March 28, with one trustee to be elected. The term of Clyde Day, of Westminster, who has served three years, expires this year. The hold-over trustees are Armand Hall, Midway City, and Percy Lawrence.

FIRE DRILL TOWER NEARS COMPLETION

Structural work on the new fire tower being constructed for the fire department on West Walnut street in the city yards is rapidly being completed and the entire project should be finished by Tuesday. It was learned today from CWA heads.

The 34 foot tower, 14 feet square at the bottom and narrowing at the top, is equipped with windows and a stairway to offer all the facilities possible for training in fire fighting and rescue work. The tower has been sheathed and painting will be started soon.

COSTA MESA, Feb. 9.—Directors of the Fairview Water company were elected at the annual meeting of stockholders at Green's hall Tuesday. Those named were Dr. J. W. Wherry, W. W. Middleton, Henry D. Meyers, E. C. Pickering and Ed Bennett.

A motion was made and carried that the board of directors be authorized to name the salaries of paid officials. The meeting was outstanding in that it was the first time in 12 years that enough of the stockholders had been brought together to form a quorum.

In giving his annual report as manager of the company, Dr. Wherry stated that salaries within the company have been cut on an average of 35 per cent. Dr. Wherry stated that the company owns 34 miles of pipe line.

The Rev. Wilfred Rowntree, who made a recent audit of the company's books, said that of the $10,000 assessed against stockholders of the company for the year, 75 per cent had been collected. Water users are in arrears $630 on their water bills, he stated. The heaviest expense for the year was the electric bill, which amounted to $3900, it was shown.

Brea-Olinda High Class In Dinner

BREA, Feb. 9.—The Fine Arts club of the Brea-Olinda Union High school enjoyed a progressive dinner Tuesday night, the repast beginning at the home of Norman Andrews, where a fruit cocktail was served. He was assisted by Bob Curry in serving his guests.

From the Andrews home the group proceeded to the home of Miss Eleanor Angle, where salad was served. Chop suey and Chinese rice cakes were served at the home of Miss Laura Mae Steele, with Margaret Mayo and Meredith Phoenix assisting in hostess duties. The course was completed at the home of Miss Bernadine Jensen, where ice cream and angel food cake were enjoyed.

Besides those mentioned there were present in the group, Bruce Hamlin, president of the club; John Van Tuyle, Miriam Jackson and Bobby Jones. Miss Louise Chapman, member of the high school faculty, accompanied them.

Work Under Way On 3 New Homes In Huntington Beach

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Feb. 9.—S. R. Bowen, superintendent of the S. R. Bowen company, is erecting three modern bungalows on his lots at Eleventh and Crest. George Green, formerly of this city, now of Whittier, has the contract and work started on the three cottages yesterday. The improvements will cost about $9,000. Mr. and Mrs. Strucosa have their stucco home on the same group of lots and also have two other modern stuccos on the same group of lots.

Three new cottages will be the last word in modern home construction, embodying all the new ideas, built-in features and conveniences.

FOUNDERS' DAY CELEBRATED BY TUSTIN GROUP

TUSTIN, Feb. 9.—Founders' day was celebrated with appropriate ceremonies Thursday by the Grammar School P-T-A. in the lower auditorium of the Presbyterian church, with more than 100 persons in attendance. Mrs. Porter G. Luther, president, presided. Mrs. Guy H. Christian substituted for Mrs. Harold Finley, Founders' day chairman, who has been ill.

"The Birthday," a playlet, was presented by Mrs. Emily Lindsey's pupils. Four orange candles were lighted by Mrs. Luther in observance of the 25th anniversary of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers' association. A Founders' day talk was given by Mrs. Vernon Clayton, accompanied by Mrs. Vincent Humston, sang three numbers.

Mrs. Evadne Crouse Perry, county rural art supervisor, gave an interesting talk on "Art in the Elementary Schools" and exhibited art work done by rural children. Mrs. Glen Warner, art chairman, arranged for the talk.

During the business session, the president announced that there would be a manufacturers' co-operative dinner at 6:30 p. m. February 26, at the Presbyterian church dining hall. Reports were given by Mrs. Ruth Walker, secretary; Mrs. Robert Korff, treasurer; Mrs. Joseph L. Marshall, membership chairman; Mrs. Edward Dahl, finance chairman; Mrs. J. D. Campbell, legislation chairman.

The flag salute was led by Mrs. Frank H. Greenwood.

CHAMBER HITS SCHOOL BOARD QUESTIONNAIRE

NEWPORT BEACH, Feb. 9.—A questionnaire sent out to parents of pupils of the Newport Beach Elementary school was termed "indefinite, unfair and misleading" by a chamber of commerce meeting Wednesday night. Members of the chamber school building committee, including Lew Wallace, Mayor Herman Hilmer, Marvin George Gordon and Johnson, were authorized to prepare a statement in regard to the above mentioned questionnaire and the chamber also asked that it be permitted to prepare an argument in favor of a less expensive plan for rebuilding the school if, as reported, the school board plans to take a straw vote of all the voters in the school district in the matter.

The questionnaire sent out by pupils to their parents did not fairly set forth the facts in the case, it was asserted by speakers. They contended that $100,000 or even considerably less will finance a school building meeting all of the requirements regarding earthquake resistance, fire hazards, and all other laws and ordinances, can be built to house as many students as would be provided for by the $185,000 plant proposed by the school board.

It was suggested that the matter be made an issue in the school board election, which is set for March 30. Those who made the suggestion were believed that trustees would be elected at that time, whereas but one, Charles H. Way, is coming up for election. Vernon Orr, president of the school board, was appointed to fill a vacancy, but fills out the entire term.

MISSION WORK IN ORIENT OUTLINED

GARDEN GROVE, Feb. 9.—A Chinese dinner was enjoyed by members of the Standard Episcopal society of the Methodist Episcopal church in the home of Miss Juanita Dungan on East Ocean avenue Tuesday evening.

Miss Mildred Bissett, of Fullerton, who spent last summer in China and Japan, gave an interesting account of life in China and work of the missions. She also exhibited some lovely articles in linen, silk and lacquer.

Miss Doris Schurr sang a solo, accompanied at the piano by Miss Mary Otis Macintosh. The girls made plans for a tea to be given in March in honor of Miss Agnes Dunn, missionary nurse, who is home on a furlough from India. She was formerly school nurse in this vicinity.

The dinner was served on small tables centered with Chinese lilies. Covers were placed for the following: Miss Mildred Bissett, of Fullerton; Miss Doris Schurr, Miss Viola Romack, Miss Phyllis Hamilton, Miss Marjorie Chaffee, Miss Virginia Henderson, Miss Harriet Short, Miss Frances Chandler, Miss Frances Hammontree, Miss Dorothy Dales, Miss Jane Dales, Miss Fernie Mitchell, Miss Lida Mitchell, Miss Mary Otis Macintosh, Miss Juanita Dungan and Mrs. John L. Plans were discussed for a program to be held April 20 by the Northern Orange County groups of young business women in observance of the anniversary of the founding of the Y. W. C. A. Claudine Zumwalt was elected treasurer of the local group to take the place of Naomi Granger, who has resigned.

A spring program for the local group was discussed and the social hour was spent in doing leather work. The next meeting will be held at the home of Miss Ruth Dickey and will be given over to a party.

At midnight she learns her father has been seriously injured in a motor accident.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

CHAPTER XXXII

Lila said patiently, "I've told you over and over again. I want to be free."

Derek, tall and handsome in tweeds, his stormy dark eyes puzzled, asked, "What's gone wrong? I don't know I've tried. Oh, sweets, there must be something we can do..."

He rose from her place by the fire and stared out of the window at the lights which spangled the city below her. Kong came in noiselessly and carried away the coffee tray. The big room with its ringed hands to the blaze. "We were very quiet."

"It was a mistake from the start, I think," she said evenly. It was being harder than she had expected and in spite of her outward appearance of calm her heart was beating thickly. If Derek should find out that, after all this, she meant to marry Marko, his little boy attitude of puzzled hurt would be changed. But he must not find out!

"I'm not your sort," she continued, holding out her long, supple rings hands to the blaze. "We don't think the same way. Confess your idea of life is not mine."

"No, no, Frankly, it isn't," Derek said. "But after all, marriage means concessions. I've made some. I suppose you have, although in the main our life has been as you wanted it. But it was forever. You and I both said that...we pledged it, not two years ago."

"I know, I know," she stirred impatiently. How could she make him see?

"It's just that—well, I don't feel the same any more I don't—don't love you any more."

The man in the deep chair moved as though to ward off a blow. His dark face paled suddenly.

"I'm sorry," Lila said quickly. "I didn't mean to hurt you. But you just wouldn't see..."

Derek rose. How tall he was, she

CLUB CHAIRMAN GIVES ADDRESS ON HOME LIFE

PLACENTIA, Feb. 9.—"Shared experiences between members of the family are necessary to build a successful home," Mrs. Walter Malone, state chairman of American home of the California Federation of Women's clubs, said Wednesday at the meeting of Placentia Round Table club members as she discussed "The American Home, Inc."

She said the most important time of the day is the 10 minutes after dinner when the family sits about, each bringing to the other a bit from the daily routine.

MISS GRIFFITH H. V. L. VALENTINE MARRY IN HOME

ORANGE, Feb. 9.—Miss Josephine Griffith, attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Griffith, of West Chapman avenue, and Vernon Valentine, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Valentine, 1053 North Glassell street, were married Wednesday afternoon at a ceremony in the home of the bride's parents, with the pastor of the First Presbyterian church, Dr. Robert Burns McAulay, reading the impressive service.

Preceding the ceremony Miss Galene Goble played "All For You" and as the young couple entered the living room she played Mendelssohn's Wedding March. One end of the living room had been banked with early spring flowers, ferns and palms and it was here that the ceremony took place.

The bride wore a smart frock of royal blue crepe with white accessories and she carried an arm bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley. Her bridesmaid, Miss Agnes Nelson, of Placentia, was in navy blue crepe with white accessories and her arm bouquet was of deep red roses. Leslie Valentine, brother of the bridegroom, served him as best man. The bride's gift from the bridegroom was a strand of beautiful pearls.

A wedding cake loomed in white and topped with miniature bride and groom was served with molded cake decorated with hearts and the table from which the refreshments were served was centered with a bowl of daffodils. The young people left immediately after for a motor trip in the north and on their return they will establish their home in Orange, where Mr. Valentine is associated in the Valentine Fruit company.

The bride came to this community from Compton with her parents a few years ago and she is a graduate of the Orange Union High school. Mr. Valentine is a graduate of the Orange Union High school, the Santa Ana Junior college and of Redlands university, where he majored in commerce and was a member of the Alpha Gamma Gamma Mu fraternity.

The mother of the bride, Mrs. G. A. Griffith, wore an afternoon frock of brown silk with touches of green and the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. F. R. Valentine, an afternoon frock of dark blue with touches of white. Both wore corsages of orchid sweetpeas.

Those present included the parents of the young couple, Mr. and Mrs. Griffith and Mr. and Mrs. Valentine, Marcus, Harry, Dick, George and Helen Griffith, Leslie Valentine and Ruth Valentine; Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Hall, of Tresspass, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. Lelloy Valentine and daughter, Shirley, and son, Billy; Mr. and Mrs. Orlo Hobbs and son, Charles, and daughter, Colleen; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hobbs and son, Harold; Miss Agnes Nelson, Miss Galene Goble and Dr. Robert Burns McAulay.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH AFFAIR ATTRACTS 250

ORANGE, Feb. 9.—With 80 guests present from the Aid society of the Santa Ana First Presbyterian church, the Friendship tea given yesterday at the First Presbyterian church was largely attended. Mrs. Arthur Bauer headed the group of hostesses and decorations were in charge of Mrs. Anna Linnartz. Over 250 women shared the pleasant event.

Mrs. H. F. Taylor, who is acting as general chairman for the year, announced that the next event will be held on March 2 and that the meeting will be an evening one in charge of Mrs. Blanche Brown, with the topic, "Choosing a Career," to be developed in the program.

Each Santa Ana guest was presented with a corsage of sweetpeas and fern made by Mrs. C. O. Powell, Mrs. W. E. Anderson and Mrs. W. A. Settle. Mrs. R. W. Jones announced the Day of Prayer to be held at the Mennonite church on February 16, when a program centering on mission work will be given. One of the mission workers to be present will be the Rev. A. E. Escobedo.

Mrs. Margaret Ockles was program chairman and Sallie Coe Mueller sang, "Song of the Open," by Frank La Forge, and "A Spirit Flower," by Campbell-Tipton. Miss Janet Ritt, of Santa Ana, a pupil of Dorothy Pittman, gave a reading, "The Little Rebel," and members of the Lyric trio of the First Christian church, Mrs. Walter Kogler, Mrs. Leon DesLarzes, and Mrs. A. D. Burkett, sang "Out of the Dusk to You," "Rain" and "Four Lindy Lou's."

Many new members of the church who were present were introduced by Mrs. John Ragan introducing Mrs. Mollie Chapman, Mrs. M. L. Pearson introducing Mrs. Benjamin LaMonica, Mrs. Robert Burns McAulay introducing Mrs. J. A.

Hill, and Mrs. Jane Welch introducing Mrs. Anna Heitshusen. Several members Mrs. Cal Lester, Mrs. Earl Wood and Mrs. W. J. Sutherland. Tea was served at the close of the meeting and tables were centered with sweetpeas in low bowls with graceful runners of smilax. Mrs. J. H. Gribble and Mrs. Owen Murray poured.

Aid Group Votes Sum For Church

ORANGE, Feb. 9.—At the regular meeting of the Methodist Ladies' Aid society in the Epworth hall Thursday, $155 was voted to apply on the church budget for the year. Mrs. J. R. Kenyon presided at the business meeting and members of Circle No. 1, with Mrs. G. A. Moody as the leader, arranged the program.

Members of the circle gave group singing and whistling numbers and Mrs. Jim Winget sang several solos with Mrs. M. V. Allen as her accompanist. Piano solos were played by Miss Carol Mae Larson and Miss Emma Corson gave a reading.

About 60 were present. A covered dish luncheon was served at noon with members of Circle No. 4, of which Mrs. H. Z. Sawyer is the leader, as the hostesses.

WORK ON QUILT

ORANGE, Feb. 9.—A covered dish luncheon was a feature of the regular meeting of the Ladies' Aid society of the Christian church Thursday. Following a short business meeting, over which Mrs. Purl Sholl presided in the absence of Mrs. John Adams, the day was spent in quilting. More than 90 women were present. Hostesses for the day were Mrs. Edd Winthrop, Mrs. Purl Sholl, chairman, and other women having birthdays in the month of February.

P-T. A. GROUP IN CEREMONY AT CITY PARK

ORANGE, Feb. 9.—A tree planting ceremony at the city park Wednesday afternoon marked the close of the observance of Founder's day by members of the City Council P-T. A. following an all-day meeting in the home of Mrs. A. D. Schoenfeld on North Cambridge street.

Mrs. Glenn Reck, president of the group, presided at the ceremony and short talks were made by Mayor Clyde Watson and William Smith of the county board of supervisors. Mrs. Audrey Isbell Peterson read "Trees." The tree, a live oak, symbolical of the oak chosen as the emblem of the P-T. A., was planted on the children's playground.

A candle-lighting ceremony marked the cutting of two birthday cakes. The ceremony was conducted by the past president, Mrs. L. Williams, and Mrs. Reck, each of whom gave a brief resume of the year's work done in her term of office. Decorations were in the P-T. A. colors of blue and gold.

Miss Verna Jones told of plans for pre-school examinations which are to commence soon and asked the co-operation of the council.

George Sherwood, grammar school superintendent, stated that at the time of the spring graduation, students of the eighth grade are to be taken to Exposition park. In former years a graduation trip has been made to the Mission Play. Mrs. Carl Sutton was appointed to head a committee to devise ways and means to carry on welfare work. Announcement was made by Mrs. R. W. Marvin, Fourth District president, that a rate of $9 for the round trip has been secured for the state convention to be held in Sacramento in May.

Present were Mesdames Fay Irwin, J. E. Bertman, L. L. Williams, Carl Sutton, Glenn Reck, Fred Lentz, Paul Rostow, W. C. Armstrong, Alvin Clifford, Audrey Isbell Peterson, William Dyer, Kenneth King, R. E. Gross, A. D. Schoenfeld, Miss Verna Jones, Miss Rachel Williams and George Sherwood.

CHARACTER, WITH VICTORY — Georgia Tech and Duke, not looking over the number of enough balance of character there football coaching casualties, a longer list this year than ever before, a layman might be excused for getting the idea that the schools want their character-building coaches to construct a bit more of winning character than losing.

"Hunk" Anderson, whose Notre Dames lost five games (one even to Navy) and defeated only three opponents, is the conspicuous example, of course, but there are so many others who "resigned" after disastrous seasons that the conclusion must be colleges do not want losing characters in football suits around the premises.

ONE GAME—AND OUT!

Sam Williamson's Ohio State and a good season, but alumni factions couldn't take the loss of the game to Michigan though the Buckeyes won every other tilt. So Sam "resigned" and will build this year at Western Reserve.

Ruggie Root's Yale not only lost most of their games but enjoyed a heavy laugh while doing it. Captain Lassiter's speech to the effect that football was just good clean fun anyway made old Yale men grin at their teeth. Yale tried to get Kipke, failed, and brought on "Ducky" Pond.

Jackson Cannell's Dartmouth squad started beautifully by trouncing Norwich, Vermont, Bates and Penn and tying Harvard. But then came the deluge—defeats at the hands of Yale, Princeton, Cornell and Chicago. So the new coach at Dartmouth is "Red" Black, enticed from Army.

"Chuck" Collins' North Carolina team beat Davidson, Wake Forest, North Carolina State and Vanderbilt, but lost to Georgia, Florida.

BELIEVE IT OR NOT--RED SOX MAY HAVE BEST SLAB STAFF IN LEAGUE THIS YEAR

By GEORGE KIRKSEY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

CHICAGO, Feb. 9.—For the first time in several years the American league pennant race is considered a wide-open affair, with the team that gathers the strongest pitching staff likely to win the championship.

On the basis of last year's performances, Washington possibly has the strongest pitching staff, but three of the Senators' aces are veterans and any one of them might fold up during the coming season. Manager Joe Cronin probably counts on "General" Crowder, Earl Whitehill, Walter Stewart and Monte Weaver as his four mainstays. The quartet accounted for 71 games out of the 99 won last year by the pennant-winning Senators.

Oddly enough, the seventh-place Boston Red Sox might bob up with the strongest pitching staff in the league if their new hurlers perform up to last year's records. The Red Sox' five starting pitchers probably will be "Lefty" Grove, "Rube" Walberg, George Pugsley, Henry Johnson and Gordon Rhodes. Among them they won 64 games last year.

If Bob Weiland, Herb Pennock, Johnny Welch and Fritz Ostermuller, obtained from the Rochester International League club, perform up to last year's marks, the Red Sox can win the pennant. Those four won 35 games and with the 64 conceded the regulars, Boston would have a total of 99 victories.

The five best pitchers in the league last year, everything considered, were Grove, Whitehill, Vernon Gomez, Crowder and Tommy Bridges.

Cleveland's pitching staff of Pearson, Hildebrand, Harder, Farrell, Lloyd and Clint Brown looks dangerous.

FAVOR COUGARS IN TITLE GAME

S. C. BEARS IN FIRST GAME OF TITULAR SERIES

The California-Southern California basketball game will be broadcast from Olympic auditorium tonight. Radio KMTZ will put the contest on the air at 8:15.

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 9.—Southern California versus California for the conference divisional championship, S. C.'s tight defense against the Bears' high scoring offense. Lee Gutterro vs. Hal Elbert for conference scoring honors.

Such is the situation in the basketball series that opens tonight at the Olympic auditorium. The teams will play again in the same place tomorrow, California, with a one-game lead in the conference race, need only an even break to practically clinch the title. Southern California, now in second, must take both contests to have the inside track.

Contrasting styles will be seen when the league leaders meet. Southern California's offense is of the deliberate type, guards controlling the ball just inside the center line until the front line starts its swinging or criss-crossing that will bring a break at the basket.

California, using a weaving type of attack, takes advantage of the height of its men, keeps the ball sailing over the heads of its opponents and favors fast-breaking plays. Even in defense the teams differ radically. S. C. using a man-for-man type and California the zone system.

Southern California scoring is centered in Lee Gutterro, and many of S. C.'s plays are designed to work the ball by in under the basket. California's point-making is led by ambidextrous Captain Hal Elbert, who takes shots from all angles with either hand and who is now leading Gutterro, 78 to 77, in the race for individual high scoring honors.

Both squads will have their first teams intact, according to the lineup announcements by Coaches Sam Barry and "Nibs" Price. The preliminary games at 7 each night will be played by the Trojan freshmen against the Citrus junior college Friday and Alhambra high school Saturday. The varsity games are slated for 8:15.

Starting lineups:
Southern Cal. (c) Elbert
Elliot (c) F. Englehard
Gutterro (c) F. Englehard
McKee
Kelly (c) G. McGaffey
Besces (c) G. Stansky

STANFORD FAVORED OVER BRUIN QUINTET
PALO ALTO, Feb. 9.—(UP)—Stanford's basketball array was a heavy favorite to defeat U.C.L.A. in their conference basketball meeting here tonight.

NET GROUP GATHERS TO ACT ON RANKINGS
PITTSBURGH, Feb. 9.—(UP)—Delegates to the annual meeting of the United States Lawn Tennis association are arriving in preparation for the star chamber meeting of the executive committee tonight.

Among the subjects was the question of an open tournament; formal approval of rankings made by the ranking committee; the association's policy of handling United States Davis Cup teams and probably one or two minor rule changes.

For the Southern California and Caltech teams are made up almost entirely of American football players and the hardest game so far this season is expected. The Caltech boys have played two years without a defeat.

CROSLY EXCITED OVER REDS

New Owner Wakes Manager In Night To Talk Shop "FIRST DIVISION" BOYS POSE

BY HENRY McLEMORE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, Feb. 9.—Being nothing more than a few random memories of the recent National baseball league meeting:

Jimmy Wilson, Max Carey and Bob O'Farrell, managers of the Phillies, Dodgers and Reds, in the order named, posing with a bit of embarrassment for a photographer in the Waldorf-Astoria's peacock alley. "What's this picture for?" asked Bill Terry in passing. "Just taking a shot of the first division managers," replied Wilson.

The sportswriter, who, in mock seriousness, asked Wilson if he could name the four pitchers he planned to honor with the opening day game assignment in Philadelphia.

The boyish enthusiasm of millionaire Powell Crosley Jr., new owner of the Cincinnati Reds, as he passed a baseball around for the autographs of the players, managers and owners. It reminded me of the days in Washington during the last world series when "Babe" Ruth, just a fan at heart, climbing out on the slippery, sloping shed in front of the press box to gather in foul tips. "Babe" left every game with a pocketful of baseballs.

It was this same Crosley, so new to baseball, who called up his vice president, Larry MacPhail, in the middle of the night and, in a voice trembling with excitement, yelled: "Get up and get busy! I've just learned that Brooklyn is willing to sell 'Hack' Wilson!" MacPhail told him that "willing" wasn't quite the word—that "dying" was more like it. And that the Reds wouldn't be interested until the Dodgers started giving him away.

Bill Terry, Giants' boss, betting Max Carey a suit that he (MacPhail) would play in 150 games this season and outfit any first baseman in the league. Carey denying that Brooklyn would like to swap "Hack" Wilson for "Babe" ly relief hurlers headed for the bullpen.

George Gibson, Pirate manager, bemoaning the friendliness of rival players on the playing field. "In my day," George said, "if an opposing pitcher walked over to the cage while we were holding batting practice, we'd grab a handful of bats and go for him. I guess modern ballplayers are just a little too nice."

SENIORS SEIZE EARLY LEAD IN SAINT INTERCLASS MEET

Less than two points in the lead after six events, but slightly favored on the remaining program, Captain Art Strancke's seniors today loomed as 1934 interclass track champions at Santa Ana high school.

On Poly field this afternoon were to be conducted the seven events that will decide the title—the 220, 880, low hurdles, shot put, discus, high jump and relay. Although the discus has been eliminated by the C. I. F., Coach Bill Cook included the event to draw at the request of several athletes.

How the classes stand after the first day: Seniors, 27 1/2 points; Juniors, 26; Sophomores, 12 1/2.

The climax to yesterday's program came late in the afternoon when Erwin Youel, a sophomore, soared 11 feet in the pole vault to tie Captain Strancke, bulky senior, for first place. Youel's mark was six inches higher than he ever made at Willard.

Another ex-Willard athlete, Sophomore Del Beard, set out like a winner in the 440 but his deadly pace caused him to fold up on the final turn. Charles Ortiz, senior, winning in 56.8 seconds. Beard failed to place, but the speed and form he showed early in the race greatly pleased Coach Cook. Billy Green, senior, followed Ortiz to the tape, Strancke took third, and Senior Ray Foster fourth.

DONS OPEN '34 GRID SCHEDULE WITH POMONA

Santa Ana jays' first start in defense of its Eastern conference and Southern California association football championships will be made against Pomona junior college October 13.

The Pomona game will be played here, either at Poly field or in the Municipal Bowl, whereas last year the Dons toured to the inland city for the inaugural.

Other conference games will be with Riverside at Riverside Oct. 20; with Citrus at Azusa Oct. 27; with Chaffey here Nov. 3; with San Bernardino here Nov. 10, and with Fullerton at Fullerton Thanksgiving Day, the latter being an established annual event. Santa Ana's bye date comes Nov. 17.

Coach Bill Cook has not made public the Dons' preliminary non-league contests, but as usual he proposes to draw up an attractive schedule which probably will include the Southern California and U. C. L. A. freshmen, and Urban. There is a possibility that the Santa Anas, as defending champions of the association, will rate a trip to Berkeley or Palo Alto to play the California or Stanford frosh.

The complete schedule:

October 13—Pomona at Santa Ana.
October 20—Santa Ana at Riverside.
October 27—Santa Ana at Citrus.
November 3—Chaffey at Santa Ana.
November 10—San Bernardino at Santa Ana.
November 17—Santa Ana, bye.
November 24—Santa Ana at Fullerton.

STANFORD BASEBALL SQUAD TO REBUILD

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Feb. 9.—Facing the problem of almost completely rebuilding, Coach Harry Wolter is preparing the 1934 Stanford baseball team for a busy season.

Only one veteran infielder is now available—Jerry Trautman at third base—and he is getting competition from Frank Tremaine, a sophomore. Gordon Mallatratt, regular first baseman, is playing on the basketball team and will be late reporting. Jim Wooley, second baseman, has a bad knee and may be unable to play, so Wolter has made Bob Sayvinske over from a pitcher and is using him at second.

Edward Galbraith and Clark, sophomores, are staging a hot battle for the shortstop post vacated by Bert Delmas. Ike Livermore, regular catcher, has graduated and Jimmy Massie, who acted as relief man for him, is the leader in the battle for this job, although Morgan, a sophomore, is showing up well.

Captain Dick Miles is the only veteran outfielder available and the scramble for the other two spots will be a hot one. The leading contenders are "Bones"

Hamilton, sophomore; McFadden, a transfer from Menlo; Maggiori, a sub last year; Neuman, Walline, and Nutting. Bob Grayson is recovering from a rib injury, incurred in the Rose Bowl game, and will be ready for action soon. Wolter may use Grayson either at first or in the outfield.

Fred Herringer, the Indians' leading pitcher, appears headed for a good year, as does "Lefty" Campbell, who did some chucking in 1933. Stan Anderson, Stanford's best moundman in '32, who did not play last year, seems to have completely recovered from a knee injury and should be a valuable addition to the staff. Semmelroth, Blanchard, Will Herringer and Armstrong are other possibilities.

Football Rules Committee Opens Meeting

ATLANTA, Feb. 9.—(UP)—The National Intercollegiate Football Rules committee, the master mind of the gridiron, opens its annual meeting tonight.

The committee will meet with its advisory committees of coaches and officials and consider a few minor changes, some 50 "suggestions," and clarification of eight rules.

The committee's meeting will be secret and information of its findings will not be available until the end of the final session.

Reliable information was to the effect that the rule on out-of-bounds plays appeared certain to be changed so that the ball would be moved inside the boundary 15 yards instead of 10. No other proposed changes appeared to have a chance to get by.

LOUGHRAN SURE HE'LL DETHRONE CARNER FEB. 22

BY STUART CAMERON
(United Press Sports Editor)

WEST PALM BEACH, Feb. 9.—Tommy Loughran believes he is boxing's man of destiny and therefore is certain he is going to win the heavyweight championship from Primo Carnera.

Training here for his shot at the title, the former holder of the light-heavyweight crown predicted a victory, and was certain the fight will be decided on points.

The bout will be held Feb. 22. "From the first time I entered the ring 15 years ago, I've felt that destiny guided my boxing course," he said.

"Despite cruel setbacks—and I have had my share of them—my faith in this destiny has never faltered. Even the most recent one, when Steve Hannas scored a knockout over me, I've held to my belief. I feel certain that I'm to take the title and I think I'll take it the next time I fight."

"I've no dreaming idea of a knockout, no more than I have of being knocked out," he said. "But the boxing I do with Carnera has got to be different than against a man of my own size. He's 255 and I'm 185. So I'm sparring mostly with big men. Ace Clark of Philadelphia, the big colored man, is coming in from San Francisco Monday or Tuesday. Meantime I'm working with Jack Pettifer, the British heavy who stands six-six and weighs 240."

Tommy feels that those who fear for him against a man so much heavier than he are forgetting his record against big men. He recalls such giants as Ray Impellitteri and Victorio Campolo, both of whom were "meat" for the Philadelphia dancing-master. Tommy also points to his record of having dropped (although he didn't knock out) such men as Carpenter, Sharkey and Pierre Charles. And he asks one to remember he outpointed Maxie Baer, the man who is supposed to have Carnera's number.

WILLOWS, Cal., Feb. 9.—(UP)—A blow on the jaw during a boxing exhibition preceded the brain hemorrhage which caused John Kula's death in a hospital here, investigators learned today.

Kula, 20, was brought from his Orlando home unconscious. Authorities said he had been injured while training for a fight. No action was planned against S. L. McBride, high school student, with whom Kula reportedly was boxing.

COUNTY LEAGUE LEADERS CLASH AT CAPISTRANO

Whether San Juan Capistrano high school wears the Orange league's basketball toga for the second successive season will be determined tonight when Tustin, the lone remaining contender, squares off against the undefeated Cougars on the champions' floor at 8 o'clock.

Victory for Stan Gould's Capistrano quintet will clinch the title, while a comparatively easy assignment at Garden Grove next week makes a win for Tustin equivalent to the championship.

San Juan Capistrano has been established as a slight favorite, due partly to the fact that it defeated Tustin, 36-24, at the Huntington Beach Invitational tournament last December; partly because its seasonal record is superior. Tustin lost to Anaheim, 17-41, whereas Capistrano beat Anaheim, 34-26. Tustin won from Brea, 26-23; Capistrano's margin was 22-14. Tustin beat Newport Harbor, 36-24; Capistrano routed the Sailors, 26-7. The one comparison that gives Tustin a royal chance is the Orange game. Tustin defeated Orange, 29-22. Capistrano took Orange, 28-26, only after two strenuous extra periods.

Indications are that both schools will have their strongest lineups intact. Elsworth Teter, Tustin guard, returning to Coach Bill Cole's squad today after being in quarantine for two weeks. Cole said Teter probably would start, along with Wilson Seacord, Dean Francis, Howard Spangler and "Chuck" Forbes. Gould will rely on George and "Ace" Avila, Bill Magee, Bob Erricarte and Fred Stoffel—all veterans but the young Avila.

Other league games tonight: Orange at Newport Harbor; Anaheim at Garden Grove; Brea Olinda at Huntington Beach.

League standings:

where's Elmer?

That's what everyone wants to know. Reliable last reports were that Elmer couldn't stand it any longer. Just broke down and left. Poor Elmer. His ever-loving wife fell for the "bargain counter" coffee story. So Elmer suffered what he called ground up hickory in his coffee-cup as long as he could. Now Mrs. Elmer has seen a new vision. Her grocer told her: "Coffee economy depends on strength and flavor. Hills Bros. Coffee has abundant rich flavor. That's why it tastes better. That's why it goes farther. Don't forget you buy coffee by the pound but you drink it by the cup." Mrs. Elmer is now using Hills Bros. Coffee. They say Elmer's liable to show up "most any time now."

Smiles in SPORTS

The late Jim Delaney, trainer of Jim Corbett and Jim Jeffries, was a clever manager, too. An incident during his handling of Jerry Slattery proved it.

Jerry was scheduled to fight June Dennis, a hard-fighting colored man. Jim knew Jerry would need lots of help, and he set out to get it for him.

Delaney rented a hearse, borrowed an undertaker's uniform, and night after night he drove his gloomy outfit past Dennis' training quarters. This went on for weeks and the negro, seeing it every night, finally got the jitters.

When June crawled into the ring the night of the fight he was nervous. He was all attention when Slattery climbed into the ring until—

Right at the ringside loomed the black coat and top hat of the hearse-driver. With a yell he leaped from the ring and ran into the street. Even the coppers couldn't find him.

Mrs. Campbell, Even With Par, Is Golf Winner
Even with par, Mrs. Dean Campbell won match play sweepstakes in Class A from a field of women golfers at the Santa Ana Country club Thursday.

Mrs. C. V. Doty two down, finished second. Mrs. Roy Langley was three down. Mrs. B. W. McClure and Mrs. R. W. Weston were four down.

Three Class B players tied for first, one up. They were Miss Nan Mead, Mrs. E. H. Guthrie and Mrs. Jack Colburn. The country club's Class B team was playing a team from Long Beach here today.

THE TINYMIES

STORY BY HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KING

Wee Dotty watched the boys a while and then she jumped up, with a smile, and said, "Give me a shovel. I can dig as well as you. If we're ever find that key, it's best, kids, that you call on me to lend a hand. Give me a chance. I'll show you what I can do."

"Ha, ha!" laughed Duncy. "You're a girl, and I'll bet, if you take a whiff at digging, you'll get all tired out. You'd better stand aside."

"It takes a real strong lad like me to swing a shovel right, you see." Then Duncy broke right in. "Aw, let her try it once," cried he.

"Well, if you must, you can take mine," said Duncy. "That will be just fine, 'cause I can loaf and watch you. You won't last very long."

So Dotty took the shovel and seemed very pleased to lend a hand. In just a little while she said, "I guess I've proved I'm strong."

The Tinnies' old man friend cried, "Say! You've cleaned more dirt out of the way than any of the little boys. You are the best of all."

And then he turned to Duncy and exclaimed, "You, too, can lend a hand. Climb right into the hole they've made. Be careful you don't fall!"

It wasn't long till Duncy said, "This big hole, now, is o'er my head. Perhaps we're in the wrong place." Then he stopped and shouted, "Gee! 'I was mistaken, 'cause I've found the key. It's right here in the ground." They shortly pried it out. It was as big as it could be.

The old man smiled and said, "Well, now, we'll have to carry it somehow, until we reach the little gate to Nature Land. Let's go!"

Some of the Tinnies lifted it. "Why, this won't bother us a bit," said Duncy. "Come on, Duncy, we can carry it, I know."

(The Tinnies reach Nature Land in the next story.)

County Mayors Urge Local Liquor Traffic Control

REVENUE LACK UNDER STATE PLAN REASON

Members of the executive council of the Orange County League of Municipalities adopted a resolution last night at their monthly meeting, asking the State League of Municipalities to take action to bring about local control of liquor traffic. Ten of the 13 municipalities of the county were represented at the meeting held in the Green Cat cafe.

The resolution was adopted on motion of W. M. Huntley, mayor of Tustin following a report on the recent liquor control conference held in San Francisco by C. A. Watson, Orange mayor.

Watson said that at the meeting in San Francisco the general opinion was expressed that the cities and counties should have control inasmuch as they are charged with the incidental policing duty. At present all license fees go to the state leaving the cities and counties to pay the policing bill.

May Go On Ballot

Watson said that James McSheehy, president of the San Francisco board of supervisors, who presided at the conference, was empowered to appoint a committee of 10 men to prepare a petition to put local control of liquor on the fall election ballots. The Orange county delegation urged the naming of Assistant District Attorney W. F. Menton to this group.

It was pointed out at the meeting last night that local control of the liquor traffic would mean that the cities would collect the license fees and also would have the decision as to whom shall receive licenses and where their stores are located. At present the cities have no voice in the business.

City Attorney Albert Launer of Fullerton, secretary of the League, pointed out that if local control ever were granted maximum and minimum license fees probably would be established by the state to prevent local municipalities from enforcing local option through exorbitant license fees.

Protest Jail Charges

A. C. Hasenjaeger, Santa Ana councilman and president of the Orange County League of Municipalities, was authorized to appoint a committee to work for an equalization of board rates charged at the county jail for city prisoners. It was pointed out that county prisoners are boarded at a rate of 14 cents per meal while cities are charged 20 cents per meal. Hasenjaeger said that he would name the committee at the next League meeting.

Mayor Frank Champion of Laguna Beach reported a recent conference with the supervisors on the matter and said that it was indicated that the rates would remain the same. Champion said that the supervisors held the additional six cents charged per meal per city prisoner provided for bedding and other accommodations. Launer, commenting on the report, said that it was his understanding that jail operation was paid for by the cities through taxes on city property the same as the county share for jail operation was paid.

A suggested change in the laws was discussed at length with the decision being reached that at the next league meeting it be recommended that voting power in league meetings be vested in the

BOTANIC GARDEN DEVELOPMENT TOLD TO LIONS

Interesting facts in relation to the Rancho Santa Ana Botanic Garden in the Santa Ana canyon which is being developed by Mrs. Susanna Bixby Bryant as a memorial to her father, John W. Bixby, were given members of the Santa Ana Lions club yesterday noon by Dr. Carl Wolf, Ph.D., director of research at the institution.

Dr. Wolf was professor of botany at Stanford university for four years and is recognized as an authority. He and the remainder of the Botanic Garden staff have been engaged since 1927 in securing every possible known variety of native California plants to be installed in the garden, which has necessitated many field trips to all parts of the state and to the islands off the coast. Two thousand lots of seeds and cuttings have already been secured, mostly trees and shrubs, and many of them are now ready for planting. It is estimated there are six thousand varieties of native plants and all of these possible will be gathered and propagated in the Rancho Santa Ana garden, which was founded in 1927.

Another feature of the garden is a library of some 2000 books up on botanical subjects, one of the most complete in the west, and also a collection of pressed plants. The memorial garden comprises some 200 acres, adjacent to the administration building now used as the Bryant residence which is seen by all travelers in the Santa Ana canyon. A force of nearly 20 men is kept constantly employed developing the garden, which now has nine miles of footpaths and more than 18 miles of water pipe installed.

The primary purpose of the Rancho Santa Ana Botanic garden is educational, and much work along this line is planned in co-operation with schools and colleges in their nature study and botany classes by means of field days spent at the garden. Garden clubs, other organizations, and individuals are privileged to make special arrangements for similar excursions.

President Carson Smith presided at the Lions club session held at James cafe, with Howard Barrows as program chairman. Prior to Dr. Wolf's address, several Hawaiian guitar numbers were presented by Russell Thompson and Miss Thompson.

Manly S. Harris, president of the Allied Automotive Industries of California, Ltd., will be the main speaker at the monthly meeting of the Orange County Automotive Trades association, to be held Monday at 8 p.m. in the Southern Counties Gas company offices, 207 West Second street.

Harris is a member of the National Emergency committee on the maintenance and garage code, and vice president of the National Automotive Maintenance association. Invitations for the meeting have been sent to each of the 207 individual firms represented in the county organization, according to Secretary Harry D. Riley, who is secretary-manager of both the county and state groups. President George McConnell of Santa Ana will preside at the session.

Alumni Players Beat CWA, 30-26

NEWPORT HEIGHTS, Feb. 9.—Harbor Alumni battled the local CWA in a basketball thriller in the high school gymnasium this week and won in the last few minutes, 30 to 26. Bill Brown and Harry Robinson were the point getters for the Alumni, while Ira DeBusk was the star for the CWA.

In the second game of the evening, the Newport Printers kept their record clean by trimming the Costa Mesa Safeway team 17 to 14. A basket and a foul in the last few seconds by Blanchard Beatty kept the game from ending in a tie score.

The league standing is as follows: Newport Printers, won 5, lost 0; Harbor Alumni, won 3, lost 2; Costa Mesa Safeway, won 2, lost 3; and CWA, won 0, lost 5.

Coach Ralph K. Reed announced that the final games of the series will be played next Tuesday evening. The Alumni will play the Safeway and the Printers will tangle with the CWA.

Best English Students Get Island Trip

Grace Jenkins and Bernice Miles, Santa Ana High school seniors, were chosen by the school English teachers to make a trip to Catalina island sometime in the near future, as guests of the Santa Catalina company, accepting an invitation sent by Cyril R. Tighe, district passenger agent.

They will spend a day on the island, visit all points of interest, and then when they return write a letter to the company, giving their impressions of a day's trip to the island.

The company is offering this opportunity to all of the larger high schools to send their two best English students on the trip. Those in Santa Ana High school considered besides the two who won were Margaret Brugger, Barbara Davis, Mildred Goodwin, Phyllis Hanna, Katherine McDermont, Opal Moor, Margaret Munro, Mary Paxton, Lois Pranke, Patty Rapp, Louise Sexton, Gertrude Vaughn, Mary Wallace, Betty Woodruff, Franklin Davis, Bernard Fields, Edward Robinson, Bill Flood and Robert Forcey.

Invited guests included Prof. and Mrs. J. R. Peterson, Mr. and Mrs. Luther Payne, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Moulton, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Leeson and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Fox, and Ralph Clay. Mr. Heil is president of the Oceanview school board.

Police News

Louis Carizosa, 43, Irvine ranch, arrested many times in recent weeks for drunkenness, was booked at the county jail for intoxication at 1 a. m. today. California Highway Patrolmen eating in a cafe on Bush street detained Carizosa, when he walked in intoxicated, until Santa Ana police arrived, according to police reports.

Floyd O. Mock, 32, Costa Mesa, was booked at the county jail last night for disturbing the peace by Constable William Ponting of Costa Mesa.

Maxwell Gates, 30, charged with mail fraud, James F. Devoe, alias Howard Bernard, 33, sentenced to five years in prison for violating the Dyer Act, and Merritt A. Harwell, 21, charged with counterfeiting, were booked at the county jail last night by United States Deputy Marshall Frank Besser.

EXONERATE R. R. ENGINEER OF TRAGIC DEATH

Louis Litterer, engineer of the Santa Fe passenger train which crushed Naomi Rawlinson, 15-month-old baby daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Rawlinson of San Juan Capistrano, near her home Monday, was exonerated of blame at the inquest held yesterday at the Divel Funeral home in San Clemente.

Litterer said he saw the baby on the tracks as his train speeded toward the mission village but thought it was a large doll. He said he did not realize what had happened until he stopped in San Juan Capistrano and saw blood on the front of the engine. B. F. Howe, station agent, verified the story.

Both told how they had rushed back to the scene of the accident to find that the child's mother had discovered the body of her daughter a short time before. It is believed that the little girl was playing on the tracks, about 200 yards from her home.

Funeral services for the girl were held Tuesday from the Divel Funeral home with interment in Fairhaven cemetery. Two small children survive, besides the parents, who live on the Rosenbaum ranch.

Court Notes

Erwin Ayon, 42, Santa Ana, was booked at the county jail yesterday after being arrested on a bench warrant from Judge J. G. Mitchell for failing to pay a fine for drunkenness. Ayon was committed for five days when he failed to pay a $10 fine to the court.

Tom Kelly, charged with vagrancy, was given a 10-day suspended jail sentence by Judge J. G. Mitchell yesterday.

Howard Scribner paid an $8 speeding fine in police court yesterday.

Rafael Jordan, charged with drunken driving, failed to pay a $150 fine in police court yesterday and was committed to the county jail for 75 days by Judge J. G. Mitchell.

FULLERTON J. C. CHOIR TO SING HERE SUNDAY

A song program will be presented at the First Christian church Sunday night at 7 o'clock by the Humana Symphony, a capella choir of Fullerton Junior college. It was announced today by the Rev. Walter Scott Buchanan, minister of the church.

The musical program to be presented will be at a capella or without accompaniment, and will be a sacred program of music, numbers such as "Lost in the Night," "Hosannah," "Built on a Rock" and "Beautiful Savior," all by the well known composer (Christiansen) also numbers by Bach, Kalinikoff, Mathews, Gahn, and Kreisler will be presented by the group and by special soloists selected for the evening of music.

The choir is composed of 70 singers all under 20 years of age, and was organized in 1931. The choir has given many concerts in churches throughout Southern California and over radio stations. There are a number of Santa Ana young people in the choir which will make a tour of the northern part of the state later in the year.

The choir is under the direction of Benjamin Edwards, who received his training in directing under Christiansen of the St. Olaf choir, which is one of the most famous choirs in the United States. He was also a member of the quartet of St. Olaf's choir, and is a bass soloist of note. Edwards has taught at Eugene, Oregon, San Jose State Teachers college, San Bernardino junior college, and at present is a member of the faculty of Fullerton Junior college.

While there is no charge for this service, a silver offering will be taken to help defray expenses connected with the sacred concert. The choir also is giving a concert at 8 o'clock tonight in the Fullerton auditorium.

CHARGES JEALOUSY IN DIVORCE SUIT

Declaring her husband, Samuel H. Taylor, operator of Taylor's Chocolate Shop in Fullerton, was insanely jealous and caused her to be watched, Mrs. Martha M. Taylor has filed suit for divorce in superior court. The Taylors were married June 30, 1932, and separated October 25, last.

Mrs. Taylor, charged in her complaint that because of this jealousy her husband frequently watched her and caused others to watch her to see if she went out with other men. Their hours at the cafe were different, Mrs. Taylor alleges, and when she was off duty and went to picture shows with a girl friend her husband would follow her to see if she really attended the show.

Taylor also is accused by his wife, of calling her vile names and on the day of the separation, according to the complaint he called her a vile name, drew back his fist and threatened to strike her if she arose from her chair.

ARCHES BRIDGE WORK TO BEGIN ON APRIL FIRST

NEWPORT BEACH, Feb. 9.—Work on an overhead crossing at the intersection of the Coast highway and the Newport Beach-Santa Ana boulevard at The Arches is expected to get under way April 1, following approval of the $150,000 project by the State Highway commission.

The crossing approach will start 1000 feet north of the state highway and follow the Southern Pacific right-of-way across the State highway and the channel west of the turning basin.

Plans provide for a roadway 40 feet wide with eight-foot shoulders on each side. The highway under the bridge will be 64 feet wide. The bridge over the highway and the one over the channel will be of concrete.

H. S. GIRLS TRY NEW PLAN FOR STUDENT FUND

Collecting razor blades and pens will occupy time of Santa Ana High School Girls' League February 22 to 28, they plan to add fruits of their labors to the high school loan fund.

Each year at this time a drive is sponsored to raise cash for the student loan fund, and money used to help honor students attend college. This year the school plans to follow an idea originated by Alhambra High school, according to Miss Helen Kirkland, Girls' League advisor, and accumulate old safety razor blades, for which they expect to receive from 10 to 25 cents per hundred.

The girls plan to gather all the blades possible from every student in the school, and turn all money earned to the loan fund.

Workers for the fund may also make their usual drive for pennies, according to Miss Kirkland.

Petrified Worm, Apple Found At Huntington Beach

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Feb. 9.—How prehistoric land worms or sea worms looked ages ago is shown in a peculiar petrified formation, found on the beach by Miss Hazel LaFavro, granddaughter of the proprietor of the Home Dining room at 106 Main street. Hazel found a round stone which might at one time have been a bulb or some form of fruit, but which is petrified.

It appears as though it may at one time have been an apple, somewhat smaller and different from the modern apple. From the petrified apple or bulb at one side, a modern keep plant has sprouted. From the other side, dangling through a hole, appears a fat worm, the worm also petrified, or turned to agate.

The specimen is on display at the cafe, where it was brought after being picked up on the beach, evidently dislodged and washed ashore from the bed of the sea.

Birthdays Honored By Bridge Club Dinner Officers

The home of Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Whitney, 2124 West street, afforded a pleasant setting Wednesday evening for a party with which members of Mrs. Whitney's Bridge club entertained their husbands.

The affair especially honored birthdays of two of the members, Mrs. L. Pettit and Mrs. E. Waycott, and resolved itself into a turkey dinner. This was served at tables gleaming with their immaculate linens and silver, while the red of the valentine season was introduced in the fragrant sweet peas centering each table. Following the dinner hour, bridge was informally played.

Present in addition to Mr. and Mrs. Whitney were Messrs. and Mesdames Howard Stone, Abe Telling, George Watson, E. Weidner, A. Tomblin, E. Humble, L. Pettit, and E. Waycott.

Organization's Grand President Installs Officers

New officers were installed at a recent dinner meeting of Women's Auxiliary, Independent Order of B'nai B'rith held in Green Cat cafe, with Mrs. Bessie Schwab, second grand vice-president, presiding as mistress of ceremonies.

Mrs. Beatrice Paul of Stockton, grand president, installed officers, including Mrs. Henry Beiser, president; Mrs. Fay Simmons, vice-president; Mrs. Louis Weisberg, treasurer; Mrs. A. F. Granas, secretary. Retiring officers are Mrs. Sam Hurwitz, president; Mrs. N. White, vice-president; Mrs. Henry Beiser, treasurer.

Dinner was served at tables appointed with yellow jasmene and fern. There were corsage bouquets for guests.

The program included a toast, "To the Ladies" given by Sam Hurwitz; violin and piano selections by Miss Audrey Granas and Miss Beatrice Granas.

Flying Needle Club

Meeting this week with Miss Verena Bailey, 1041 West Sixth street, Flying Needle club completed a layette which has been delivered already to a needy family.

As a feature of the noon-day covered-dish luncheon, a birthday cake was served in compliment to Mrs. Errol Barnes. In addition to the club and from her mystery sister, Mrs. Frank Brown won the highest prize.

The club received news of the death of the seven-weeks' old son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Bonter of San Dimas. Mrs. Bonter, formerly a member of the group, will be remembered as Elizabeth Griffin of 828 North Parton street.

Special guests at the meeting were Mrs. Fred Bonter and Mrs. E. Keyes of Santa Monica. Members present with the hostess, Miss Bailey, were Mrs. Adolph Erickson, Mrs. Errol Barnes, Mrs. Frank Brown, Mrs. P. P. Bergendoff, Mrs. Bernard Snee and Mrs. William Kintz.

Temperance Union Has Annual Memorial Program

Holding their annual Frances Willard Memorial meeting, during which they paid homage to the memory of Miss Willard's cousin, Mrs. Elizabeth Mills, Santa Ana W. C. T. U. met this week in the home of the late Mrs. Mills' daughter, Mrs. Theo. Wimbler, 299 East Ninth street.

Each year the Union meets with Mrs. Wimbler for a similar observance. It was the hostess' happy idea to have students from Frances Willard Junior high school provide the program for the afternoon.

Opening the meeting, Mrs. E. H. Carhart led devotionals, after which Mrs. Edward H. Burns sang "Faith of Our Mothers." Students taking part in the program were Audrey Barnes, giving a piano number; Elizabeth Wimbler, sketching the early life of Frances Willard; Bob Noble and George Hyde, playing a clarinet and cornet duet; Bob Noble giving a clarinet solo, with Mary Stever as piano accompanist; Naomi Knipe discussing temperance work done by Miss Willard.

There were other program features, including a vocal solo, "Crossing the Bar," sung by Mrs. Burns, with Miss Carrie Seaton accompanying. Mrs. Jessie Burns read a leaflet in explanation of the Frances Willard organization fund. Group singing of "Blessed Be the Tie That Binds" brought the program to a close.

In the absence of Mrs. Amy Evans, president, Mrs. J. H. Nicholson, vice president, conducted the business meeting.

During a social hour, Mrs. J. W. McCormack and Mrs. J. W. Estes presided at a beautifully decorated table.

Announcement was made that the next meeting, scheduled for March 6 in the Y. W. C. A. rooms, will be a dues and budget paying party. A special program will be given.

Dainty Blooms Serve As Decorations

Mrs. William B. Humphrey was hostess at a pretty affair in her home, 515 Linwood street, Tuesday afternoon, entertaining in compliment to Mrs. Edwin Palm.

Pink roses, white baby hyacinths and small yellow blossoms were arranged in bouquets throughout the rooms. Guests spent the afternoon working on blocks for a subcommittee quilt to be completed by Mrs. Palm.

Little Miss Anita Humphrey, daughter of the home, dressed in fluffy organdy, made her appearance with a decorated baby carriage filled with gifts for the honoree.

In serving refreshments, and in other events of the afternoon, Mrs. Humphrey had assistance of her mother, Mrs. Charles George of Garden Grove. Small bouquets of yellow blossoms centered tables, and other appointments were in pink and white.

Guests of Mrs. Humphrey, in addition to Mrs. Palm, were Mesdames Lee Jacobs, Edward Dahl, E. C. Maxson, A. De Hart, F. Blake, N. H. Winterstein, William R. Tidball, Santa Ana; Mrs. Charles George, Garden Grove; Mrs. Charles Markwood, Anaheim; Mrs. Maxine Coleman, Fullerton.

Stanford Women's Club Has Dinner Meeting

Stanford Women's club held a dinner meeting Tuesday evening in James cafe, where Miss Elsie Benoit of Anaheim presided as hostess.

The program included a talk on "Interior Decorating" given by Mrs. Mabelle Hathaway of Anaheim. Mrs. Mabel Dixon, president, conducted the business meeting.

Announcement was made that Miss Anita Stephenson will be hostess at the club's next meeting, to take place in Fullerton. Glenn Luken of Fullerton, will be speaker.

Covered-dish Dinner Comes as Birthday Celebration

R. F. Pipp's birthday anniversary was observed with a surprise affair given Tuesday night when Mrs. Pipp was hostess in the E. T. O. clubrooms, 1016 West Fifth street.

A delicious dinner menu to which guests had contributed dishes was served at a large table. Serving was an effective centerpiece was a decorated birthday cake on which frosting the honor guest's name was written. Appointments were in pink and white.

Five hundred was played with Mrs. Jack Van Beek and Dick Hawkins scoring high. Consolation awards went to Mrs. Dick Hawkins and to E. H. Hawkins.

Those sharing the event with Mr. and Mrs. Pipp were Messrs. and Mesdames E. H. Hawkins, Jack Van Beek, Dick Hawkins, E. T. O'Mallia, F. A. Stahl, Charles Pipp, Mrs. Lee Kenyon and Mrs. W. F. Graves.

Speaker Gives Book Symposium For Auxiliary

Since this week's meeting of the Women's Auxiliary to Orange County Medical association, with Mrs. G. Emmett Raitt, 2026 North Ross street, was the first of Mrs. Harry G. Huffman's regime as president, plans were outlined for an interesting year's work.

Receiving guests with Mrs. Raitt were Mesdames Dexter Ball, John Ball, John McAuley and K. H. Sutherland.

Mrs. Huffman named various committees to carry on the auxiliary activities, the chairmen including Mrs. Dexter Ball, program; Mrs. J. I. Clark, entertainment; Mrs. Arthur Robbins, membership; Mrs. G. Emmett Raitt, courtesy; Mrs. E. L. Russell, "Hygeia"; Mrs. F. E. Coulter, student loan fund; Mrs. Ray Green, public relations; Mrs. F. L. Chapline, by-laws.

As program chairman for the day, Mrs. Dexter Ball presented Mrs. E. E. Smith of Anaheim, who gave a symposium of 16 books of current interest, chosen as she explained, "as an aid in understanding national and international situations of the day."

Mrs. Smith's recent travels in Europe as a member of a Sherwood Eddy Seminar gave her a fine understanding of conditions and situations forming a basis of many of the books considered.

In discussing Germany's situation, the Nazi movement, etc., she chose such books as Calvin Hoover's "Germany Enters the Third Reich," Hamilton Fish Armstrong's "Hitler's Reich," and "My Struggle" by Hitler, also "America Faces the Next War" by Simmonds.

Among the books on Russia, including Maurice Hindus' "The Great Offensive," she cited "Russia Today" by Sherwood Eddy and "Russia Day by Day" by Corliss and Margaret La Mont, members of her party abroad.

In considering China and the Orient, Pearl Buck's books were mentioned as well as Nora Wald's "House of Exile," and "Ways That Are Dark" by Townsend.

Sherwood Eddy's "Challenge of Europe" and Beverly Nichols' "Cry Havoc" were others touched upon, and "We Move in New Directions" by Overstreet.

In serving tea at the program's close, Mrs. Raitt and her assisting hostesses made the table charming with laces and spring's own flowers, daffodils and snapdragons.

Mrs. F. E. Coulter will be March hostess, and will present as speaker, Mrs. Lichtwardt, whose nursing profession supplements the medical work of her husband, Dr. Lichtwardt in Persia. He is a medical missionary of the Presbyterian church.

Sorority Bridge Party Comes on Natal Day Of One Hostess

In receiving Beta Sigma Phi society at its first social meeting of 1934, Miss Mary Louise Wallace and Miss Juanita Fowler entertained in the home of the former, 822 Cypress street, on Miss Fowler's birthday anniversary.

It was an unusually pretty party for a striking combination of turquoise, shell pink and silver was adopted for decorative effects not only in flowers but in appointments for an evening of Monte Carlo whist. Miss Dorothy Lindsey and Miss Mary Ford made first and second high score and received the pretty prizes offered by the hostesses.

Games were followed by a few matters of business interest, including plans for the formal dance which the chapter will give in March. In the meantime Miss Wallace and Miss Fowler had completed arrangements for serving open face sandwiches, coffee, candies and a beautifully decorated birthday cake. Mrs. J. P. Wallace assisted her daughter and Miss Fowler in serving buffet style.

Flowers, sweet peas and blue daisies were mingled in the colors of the decorative motif, and turquoise blue candles flickered from their silver candlesticks.

Miss Beulah May, sponsor of the sorority, was present as were the Misses Dorothy Lindsey, Mary Ford, Delphia Lopez, Marie La Brucherie, Laura Malin, Louetta Einspahr, Elsie Siemsen, Katherine Snider, Lucie McDermott, Hazel Lee, Lynette Robb, Ruth Stevenson and the co-hostesses, the Misses Juanita Fowler and Mary Louise Wallace.

Young People Invited To Join in Surprise Birthday Party

Attaining his eighteenth year on Saturday, February 3, Harold McCustion discovered that his four aunts, the Misses Louise, Eunie and Edith McGowan, had definite plans for celebrating the anniversary in the home of their parents and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. McGowan, 1421 South Flower street.

These plans resulted in a delightful party, all details of which came as a surprise to the honor guest. The sister hostesses had planned a merry evening of bunks to begin shortly after the arrival of their guests and the consequent surprise to their neighbors. Prizes in the contest were awarded Miss Lillie Bell Forsberg, scoring high, and Miss Merle Woodyard, low. When rewards were presented, the honor guest had another pleasant surprise in the presentation to him of birthday gifts brought by his friends.

Small tables placed for the evening's games, were utilized for the refreshment course of grape jelly and ice cream whip, coffee and the candle-lit birthday cake. The tables were made charming with linens, crystal and clusters of pink sweet peas.

The four sisters received as their guests in addition to their nephew, Harold McCustion, the Chinese Lillie Bell Forsberg, Alfred Forsberg, Virginia Mason, Merle Woodyard and Agnes Keeling, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Kretzing and Messrs. Jack Hutton, Jack Bates, Armand Hanson, Jay Adams, Frank Mason, Eddie Underwood and John Harris.

Farewell Party Comes As Surprise to Honoree

Soon to leave to make her home in Los Angeles, Mrs. W. D. Johnson was complimented at a surprise farewell party given recently in her home, 2421 Poinsettia street by Unity society, of which she has served as president for the past year.

The time was spent enjoyably with music and games. An Italian out work luncheon set was presented to Mrs. Johnson as a gift of the assembled group. Refreshments provided by the self-invited guests were served.

In addition to local Unity society members present, were Mrs. Louise Newman and Mr. Cook of Long Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnson and their son Crawford, are to leave for their new home in the very near future.

Chapter Meets for Luncheon and Program

Entertaining members of Chapter AB P. E. O. Monday afternoon in her home, 816 Bush street, Mrs. J. H. Metzgar had as assisting hostess, Miss Mary Wakeham. Miss Eleanor Metzgar, daughter of the home, addressed the two in serving a delectable luncheon on individual trays.

"Wisdom from Nature" proved a most interesting topic as discussed by Mrs. J. E. Paul for the afternoon's program. She displayed a basket of vines, explaining that each plant has characteristics which must be considered by the successful gardener.

Committees gave reports. General plans were made for a B. I. L. party to be held in the near future.

Santa Anan Honored By Shower In Nearby City

In complimenting Mrs. Wallace Bragg, 522 Eastside avenue, her sisters-in-law, Miss Eunice Bragg and Mrs. Clyde Bowman, entertained this week in the latter's home at College and Pine streets, Garden Grove.

Following a series of interesting games appropriate to the occasion, prizes were awarded to the Misses Beth and Norma Cosner. A dainty bassinet, resplendent in its fluted crepe paper decorations, and filled to overflowing with baby things, was then brought in and placed before the honor guest. Refreshments of ice cream and cake were served at tables, each of which was centered with a miniature bassinet.

Present were the honoree, Mrs. Wallace Bragg, Miss Ruth Bowman of Anaheim; and Mesdames Lloyd Rogers, James Parks, Cartwright Smith, Ed Babekus, John Cosner, Norma Cosner, Catherine Cosner, Myrtle Ziegler, Rosemary Thomason, all of Garden Grove, and the two hostesses, Miss Bragg and Mrs. Bowman.

Church Group Presides Over Afternoon Party

Women of United Brethren church joined as hostesses recently at an afternoon party complimenting Mrs. John Jamison. Social rooms of the church, brightened with flowers, were setting for the event.

Among the decorations was a dainty basket of sweetpeas, presented to the honoree at the afternoon's close. Appropriate games had been arranged by Mrs. J. H. Noble. Winners, Mrs. H. A. Colby, Mrs. T. F. Naill, Mrs. Kenneth Maynard and Mrs. B. Mustard, received lollipop awards. Mrs. Robert Emerson gave a humorous reading, "Aunt Bassett and the Baby."

A pink and white bassinet filled with daintily wrapped packages was presented to Mrs. Jamison. Refreshments of cake and coffee were served, and clever little favors were in evidence at this time. Invitations and decorations for the party had been arranged by Mrs. W. H. English, Mrs. William Hart and Mrs. B. Mustard.

Those present other than the honoree, Mrs. John Jamison, were Mesdames Kenneth Maynard, G. W. Jamison, W. I. Jackson, Scott Wiles, Robert Emerson, Nellie Munger, H. Sands, Arthur Williams Hatfield, William Tidball, R. L. Hager, W. H. English, William Hart, and the Misses Phyllis Jamison, Naomi Sands, Esta Walker, Eula Hickey, Beryl Bates, Betty Walker, Leola Hart and Sharley Ann Van Natta.

Parent-Teachers

Meeting in the school cafeteria recently the executive board of Frances Willard Junior High School P. T. A. held a monthly luncheon meeting, with Dr. George Warner, president, in charge. Announcement was made by Mrs. Grace Lund, vice principal, that the welfare and finance committees will hold a candy sale at the next regular P. T. A. meeting, February 12. Wrapping and selling of the candy will be in charge of the L. 10 Girl's Service club and will be solicited from P. T. A. members by home room mothers, the event.

Mrs. John Henderson, program chairman, announced that the February meeting will begin at 8:30 p. m. with an assembly in the Willard auditorium, where Dr. Loran D. Osborn, educational director, Institute of Family Relations, will preside. Dr. George A. Warner will extend welcome, and Mrs. Golden A. Weston will make a statement concerning the plan of the course.

This will be followed by round table discussion of concrete problems in five groups: "Child Guidance," with Mrs. James Wallace, South Pasadena, chairman; "Social Life of Young People," with attendance limited to young people, and Dr. Paul Popenoe, Institute of Family Relations, chairman; "Personality Development," D. P. Wilson, Institute of Family Relations, chairman; "Constructive Use of Leisure," Dr. George B. Mangold, University of Southern California, chairman; and "Economics of the Home," Dr. Loran D. Osborn, chairman. With each group will be some of the most outstanding men and women in Santa Ana and Orange county as consultants.

The discussion will be followed by a dinner at 6 o'clock in the cafeteria, when Founders' day will be recognized. Mrs. W. E. R. Crawford, president of the city P. T. A., will preside and cut the birthday cake. Dinner will be followed by a brief business meeting, informal conference, and a social period. The evening session will begin at 7 o'clock in the auditorium, and will open with music by the evening high school orchestra. At 7:30 p. m. will be Dr. Popenoe's lecture on "How to Make Marriage Successful." After general discussion, opened by brief reports of the afternoon round tables, given by their chairmen, will close the meeting.

Santa Anan Arrives Home From Mexico

Arriving in Los Angeles Wednesday morning from Mexico where she has spent the past six months, Miss Latern Schwenck was met by her parents and her brother, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Schwenck and Charles Schwenck, 2005 South Main street, and a friend, Miss Shirley Hoffmaster.

The train on which she had made the trip pulled in to Los Angeles before 8 o'clock Wednesday morning. While in Mexico, Miss Schwenck was a guest of a former Santa Anan, Miss Helen Rodriguez in Guadalajara. The two visited various points of interest in Mexico.

EAT AND GROW SLIM

Luncheon
Combination green salad
(See recipe for today)
1 thin slice whole wheat toast with
1 tsp. butter
Clear tea, no sugar.
Calory total, 255.
While we are on the subject of green salads, have you ever tried a salad of tender young dandelions? If not, you've something left to live for! Listen to this:

Buy, or dig in your own yard, a quart or more of tender young dandelions. Nipped out with a sharp knife the nubby root will show a tender pink, which you must keep in the salad. Wash and wash the dandelions until no stain is left in the water, then look through the roots for tiny angleworms. . . not that the angleworms hurt the dandelions, . . . but we aren't having any proteins on our luncheon menu, today, thank you! After the dandelions are clean, chill them, at serving time, cut them in short lengths with a scissor, add a little minced green onion, and a French dressing mixed at the moment. Have plenty of seasoning in it, some prepared mustard and Worcestershire sauce. Pour over the 'lions and toss with forks until every leaf is coated with oil, then eat with crisp bread and good cheese and thank God that you have a healthy appetite and two hands to convey such food to your mouth.

Oh, by the way, dandelions are supposed to contain all sorts of health-giving elements which our winter-porged bodies seem to need for their spring house-cleaning operations.

TODAY'S RECIPE

Combination Green Salad
(8 servings)
1 large head lettuce
2 celery hearts
1 small head Italian cabbage
4 heads curly endive
1 bunch watercress
1 pound hot house tomatoes
1 large cupful French dressing.
A medium-sized wooden chopping bowl makes a swell salad bowl after you've conditioned it by using it as a receptacle for draining French-fried potatoes. The pores of the wood must be saturated with oil before the bowl is any good. Assuming you have such a bowl, peel a clove of garlic, and crush it against the inner surface of the

A PLAYTIME FROCK WITH ADORABLE DETAILS

PATTERN 1761
By ANNE ADAMS

Here's a playtime favorite for your youngster — a sweet, simple, girlish frock that she'll love to wear. Every girl adores puffed sleeves, and a tiny, close-to-the-throat collar. They're on this model together with a fetching button-trimmed closing, snappy pleat and cleverly placed gathers that lend animation and fullness. Bloomers are included, too. The small back view shows flared sleeves—made by cutting the lower part of the sleeve. Chose a pretty cotton print—a durable one that will stand many a tubbing.

Pattern 1761 is available in sizes 2, 4, 6, 8 and 10. Size 4 takes 21-8 yards 36 inch fabric and 1-4 yard step sewing instructions included.

Send FIFTEEN CENTS (15c) in coins or stamps (coins preferred) for this Anne Adams pattern. Write plainly name, address and style number. BE SURE TO STATE SIZE.

bowl to give just an elusive whiff to the salad.

Shred the lettuce and watercress into the bowl, grate the cabbage over the lettuce, and dice the celery and endive over the cabbage.

This endive, by the way, looks like a cross between a curly mat and one of those wooly little dogs, but it adds incomparably to salad. You will find it wherever an Italian gardener holds forth.

Prepare a tangy French dressing . . . plenty of prepared mustard . . . Worcestershire sauce . . . paprika . . . and so on. Beat it well, then pour over the salad and toss with two forks to mix.

Peel the tomatoes and put a layer of them over the top of the salad. Set in the refrigerator to chill for ten minutes, then serve.

You won't need a Calory List to chart the shoals of this salad, for there aren't any, but you will need one to see that you manage to stay on the right course for other meals. You may have a copy free if you'll send me one of your good recipes and a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

such a good time

Jane writes her best friend: "Mother's here you know. Came last Saturday. Mother said: 'You're serving Hills Bros. Coffee, of course?' Well, I'd been using something I thought was cheaper—not so good. Mother sort of snorted. You know how she does. Said: 'Cheaper? My dear daughter, although you may have to pay a few pennies more, don't you know Hills Bros. Coffee actually goes farther because it's made of the finest green coffees? You ought to think about the price per cup. That's the way you drink coffee—by the cup. Not by the pound.' So we got Hills Bros. Coffee and had such a good time. Now we're having Hills Bros. Coffee all the time. John says it's swell. And best of all—Hills Bros. Coffee is not costing—cup for cup—a bit more than the 'bargain counter' coffees I was using!"

News Notes From Santa Ana Schools

Frances Willard

Violin Maker's Talk
L. H. Dargatz spoke to Miss Mathes' HJ and HJK social science classes recently, explaining how a violin is made.
Mr. Dargatz, who follows the Stradivarius pattern, in making a violin, says that it takes at least a month to make a violin. He makes his own glue, the material he uses coming from Europe.
He has named some of his violins "Sweet Genevieve," "Hope," "Morning Star," etc. He has some cherry wood which was cut and cured before Abraham Lincoln was president. This particular wood has very good tone quality for instruments, according to Mr. Dargatz.
This talk was of particular interest to the school science classes, as they had been studying various woods found in the forests of North America.

Julia Lathrop

Court Organized
Lathrop Student Body Court has been reorganized for the second semester of work. Under direction of Miss Lella Thrasher, this body of students meets every Tuesday morning for the purpose of upholding "Lathrop First" and "Justice to All." Its policies have been two fold; first, to hold the "accused" innocent until proved guilty by the unanimous vote of the jury; second, the court's chief policy has been to change the spirit of those who have been out of step with Lathrop ideals and redirect the spirit and effort and give the offender some constructive work for his school.
Judges for this semester, Jean Russick and Frank Was, were chosen from the high ninth grade. The jury consists of Norman Wyckoff, Lincoln Bledsoe, Miles Detling, Philip Akins, Bobby Boyle, Don Gotsbach, Miss Thrasher acts as faculty advisor and foreman of the jury.

Tennis Tournament
The Tennis Tournament, sponsored by the 29-30 club under direction of Ferris Scott, has created a keen spirit of competition among Lathrop Tennis fans. In addition to members of the Tennis club who are awaiting this event which is to take place next week, many other members of the student body are planning to try their chances in the contest, which is open to all. The announcement that approximately $25 worth of awards are to be made has sharpened the interest of contestants. A display of winning ribbons and cups were in the main hall this week. Following the contest held among Lathrop students, several events will be played off with Willard students.

Girls Elect Leaders
Lathrop girls are busy in their physical education classes electing captains and squad leaders for the semester's program of events. In high 9 section Eloise Hickey was elected captain, and squad leaders named were Lucille Haskill and Peggy Suddith. High sevens who are combined with high nines have selected Mildred Warner captain and the following squad leaders, Ann Ulseth, June Sewell, Janet Bates, Barbara Rumbaugh, Marjorie Wall.

Drama Class
A selected group of students from the low 10, and 9th grade, classes have been given the privilege of making their production of "The Outlaw King" a success, members of the Lathrop Boys' Glee club have started the new term by electing new officers. They are: president, Russell Haney; vice-president, Albert Wright; reporter, Jack Hutton; librarians, Ralph Bright and Billie McFarren. With enthusiasm members are learning new songs and preparing a program to be given in the near future. They are directed by Miss Edith Cornell, and assisted by Olive Schweitzer, accompanist.

Club Preparing Program
After making their production of "The Outlaw King" a success, members of the Lathrop Boys' Glee club have started the new term by electing new officers. They are: president, Russell Haney; vice-president, Albert Wright; reporter, Jack Hutton; librarians, Ralph Bright and Billie McFarren. Meats
The advanced foods class, under direction of Miss Fitz, visited a local market first period Wednesday. They watched a fore-quarter of beef being cut.

Letter Awards
Some of the girls in the low 10 class were awarded letters and shields in a recent assembly. They were Muriel Jones, 1830 points; Eileen Reid, 1295 points; Louisa Chavez, 1098 points; Elinor Bliss, 1224 points; Norma Mae Bingle, 1214 points; Grace Borge, 1096 points; Jean Courtney, 1051 points; Jean Faires, 95 points; Marcella Stein, 90 points; Mae Ensigner, 900 points; Janice Marguerat, 806 points; Evelyn Whit, 508 points; Dorothy Olson, 454 points; Dorothy Grace, 406 points.

Assembly Program
Assembly was cut short to allow for a short home room meeting. The combined Boys' and Girls' Glee club sang "Allah's Holiday" and "The Forest Dance." They were accompanied by Margaret Davies and Audrey Barnes.
Coach Lund presented letters to the various boys who had won them and Miss Broadway gave the girls their awards. Retiring safety committee members were awarded certificates and new members were introduced by Leon Landersbach, new captain. Gold pins were presented to Eileen Reid, Allan Cook, Betty Frye, Thompson McNeal, Marguerite Pincott, Glenn Layton and David Hunter by Mrs. Scott, sponsor of the Honor society.
The Girls' Glee club then sang "Gypsy Love Song" and "Sun-down."

Safety Committee
Because low ten members of the Safety committee have been declared inactive, new members have been appointed to take their places. Following is a complete list of the committee members of this semester: Leon Landersbach, Norman Hatter, Robert Lippincott, David Hunter, Abe Fainberg, Marshall Pierce, David Bingham, Howard Adkinson, Jimmie Tucker, Norman Haskill, Robert Kring, Charles Valentine, Richard Wright, Howard Piper, Bill Hill, Robert Horsemann, Thomas McNeal, George Dunton, Gabriel Mercado, Lester Carden, Fay Shields, Barbara Gerard, Betty Mae Neff, Mary M. 50 YEARS A MARTYR TO CONSTIPATION

But Kellogg's ALL-BRAN Brought Welcome Relief

Read this splendid letter from Mrs. Haynes:

"For 50 years I have been a martyr to constipation. Have tried every remedy under the sun.

"One day I read an account of some one who had been relieved by ALL-BRAN. But I thought 'What was the use of me trying anything more when all else had failed?'

"A while after, I read it again. That time I thought I would try it, it would do no harm anyway.

"I began with a small dish of your ALL-BRAN for breakfast, and wonderful to say, I never need to take any physic at all now. How I wish other poor sufferers from constipation could be persuaded to try it."

"Mrs. Sarah Haynes, 138 Cedarwood Terrace, Rochester, N. Y.

Tests show Kellogg's ALL-BRAN provides "bulk" and vitamin B to aid regular habits. Also iron for the blood.

This "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that in leafy vegetables. It's so much safer than taking patent medicines! Two tablespoonfuls of ALL-BRAN daily are usually sufficient. Severe cases, with each meal. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Get this delicious ready-to-eat cereal from your grocer. In the red-and-green packages. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

How to Buy Better Meats

Meat is the foundation of all good meals. The cocktail, the soup, the vegetable, the dessert, everything else may be just right BUT if the meat doesn't come up to your expectations the whole dinner is ruined. Now all of us at this market are specialists in meats. We know how to give you the kind of meat you want at the price you want to pay. We buy our meat with the greatest care—we take advantage of the market to get you these better meats at reasonable prices. And that's why we firmly believe that we can answer your problem of getting BETTER MEATS for LESS MONEY.

B. & P. W. CLUB GOVERNOR WILL MAKING PLANS OFFICIATE AT ANNUAL DINNER ROAD OPENING

ANAHEIM, Feb. 9.—Committees for the reciprocity dinner that will be held March 8 by members of the Anaheim Business and Professional Women's club were appointed last night by the president, Mrs. Vincentia Carelton at the dinner meeting held in the Marriott cafe.

The committees are as follows: Mrs. Fannie Pritchard, place; Miss Elsie Auer, hostesses; Mrs. Eleanor Barthelme, favors; Miss Madge Sproul, program; Mrs. Kate McCullah, music; and Mrs. Mable Hathaway, decorations.

A change in policy of the club following an open discussion at the meeting resulted in a decision to hold one formal meeting, dinner and speaker, a month and one informal meeting that will be devoted to business and social activities each month, this latter to be in the home of some member. The first of these informal meetings will be held on February 22 at the home of Mrs. Kate E. McCullah, Clara Storff Smith and Edith Kennedy were appointed decorations committee.

An invitation was read from the Orange County Forum in regard to the meeting that will be held February 27 at the Fullerton Union High school auditorium.

ANAHEIM, Feb. 9.—Plans for the dedication of North Los Angeles street were changed at the board of directors meeting of the Anaheim Business and Professional Women's club yesterday afternoon in order to have Governor James Rolph Jr. present during the ceremonies on Wednesday.

Dedication ceremonies will be held on the grounds of the Elk's clubhouse at 11 o'clock in the morning instead of 7:30 p. m. as originally planned. Dr. Walter Righam, chairman of the committee of arrangements announced. The governor will be here until 11:45 o'clock when he will go to Santa Ana to attend a luncheon at the James cafe.

These plans necessitate changing the program as originally planned and completed arrangements will be announced tomorrow on Monday. The Anaheim High school band is expected to parade and furnish the music.

A delegation of civic leaders will meet Governor Rolph at Los Angeles and Palm streets, the city limits, and will escort him to the Elk's clubhouse. The committee working on Manchester road reported that plans for the 80-foot right-of-way have been extended as far as Orange-thorpe and it is now up to Anaheim to secure the remaining 1-1/2 miles of 80-foot right-of-way or 35 acres in order to extend the road to Anaheim. This will amount to approximately $60,000, according to George W. Reid, secretary, who made the report.

The board deferred action on endorsing a 20-hour industrial week bill that is now pending before congress.

A letter was read from Governor Rolph in regard to a report made by Attorney General Webb who stated that he could not recommend the conference between Arizona and California in regard to the Parker Dam. Anaheim was one of the thirteen cities in the state to oppose this conference.

MASONS PLAN FOR YEAR'S ACTIVITY

ANAHEIM, Feb. 9.—With plans well under way for the present year several special events are now being listed in the Masonic lodge calendar, the endeavors to be made efficient by the recently appointed standing committees that were announced yesterday by A. B. Cross, master of the Masonic lodge.

The committees are as follows: Vincent Bruce, George Shook and William Baker, coaching committee; W. L. Birkel, Hugo Schulz and A. H. Shipkey, delinquent committee; William Webb Jr., William D. Kohlenberger and J. A. Claves, Masonic education committee; E. R. Deering, E. E. Hedrick and Henry Carner, sunshine committee; Jack Casey, J. B. Luth, R. S. McNett and Victor LaMont, refreshments; Hugo Schulz, J. S. Bouldin and A. Alexander, finances; Darrol Webb, A. P. M. Brown and Joshua Williams, entertainment and A. S. Osborn, Fred Clough and A. S. Osborn, sickness committee.

On February 9 the first degree will be held and on February 16 a "Ladies Night" will be held.

CWA ADULT CLASSES APPROVED BY BOARD

ANAHEIM, Feb. 9.—A resolution favoring the establishment of CWA adult evening classes was passed last night by the board of trustees of the Anaheim Union High school. Application will be made at once in order to establish these classes as soon as possible and aid in giving relief to teachers who are unemployed.

In sending in the application it will be necessary for board members to work out a meeting schedule and type of class work to be done.

The rest of the meeting was devoted to reports on the completion of the bungalow classrooms and discussion of the federal emergency loan and expectation of the board members as to whether or not Anaheim will receive any such funds.

Attendance records for last month showed that 869 students were in school.

BRUCE RITES WILL BE HELD SATURDAY

WHY ADVERTISE OUTSIDERS

Business men of a community are quite anxious to have people trade at home. Everybody profits in the community, when trading is done at home, providing the prices of the merchant are what they should be, and if these are not what they should be, of course everybody profits then by the trading at home except the customer.

But, as a matter of fact, there is practically no question but what the merchandising in Santa Ana is to the benefit of the customer. We would humbly like to ask, therefore, why some of the merchants in our city endeavor to turn business from the city, upon which they depend, into Los Angeles or Long Beach.

The Register does not carry the advertising of the merchant from Los Angeles or Long Beach. The merchants of Santa Ana and Orange county do not want it to do so. We are endeavoring to build up the city and the county.

But frequently our attention is attracted, by a radio performing its stunts in a business place in Santa Ana, yelling out the wares, toilet articles and clothes, dining places and beauty spots for homes, over broadcasting stations from Long Beach and Los Angeles, inducing the hearers to travel out of town to be supplied with these things. More than once, as we were about to enter a business place, we have heard these distant appeals for us to come elsewhere to trade. We have passed by. We have not gone in, under such circumstances, but have gone elsewhere to purchase what we desired.

Imagine, if you will, a barker for a "gent's" furnishing store in Long Beach standing in person in front of a restaurant in Santa Ana, appealing to everybody who enters to buy their collars and neckties of John Yell-louder in Long Beach. But that is exactly what is being done. Only, instead of the man being there in person, they put the radio there. If we must have a radio in any shop, and advertising programs are to be rendered, for our city and county's sake, put on the local radio station. Cut out the outside advertising barkers from yelling at your local customers to go out of Orange county to trade.

This is something that the Business Men's Association might very profitably take up. All lines of business, it seems to us, if they are interested in building up their trade, could very profitably help matters by not working for the outside man.

THE CRISIS IN FRANCE

The other day we discussed the riots in France, and their relationship to the dishonesty in connection with the Credit Municipal Bayonne. Of course there were other things that have helped to inflame and to render desperate the French people. Like the assassination at Sarajevo, this dishonesty and the collapse of a "pawn shop" was the starter.

But France today is passing through an economic crisis such as she has not experienced since the years which followed the war. With more gold in her vaults than any other nation in the world save the United States, she is unable to balance her budget. Her debts absorb a great part of her taxes. Her foreign trade has never been large as compared with other great countries. Her tourist trade income has collapsed almost entirely since the slump here in the United States. Already taxes are frightfully heavy as compared with the United States. Only England has a larger public debt, and taxes its people more heavily.

Naturally economic conditions like these have weighed heavily upon the people. All classes have been affected. And groups of the malcontents like the royalists and the communists, reinforced by the veteran organizations, are taking advantage of the situation to stir up revolt.

What the result will be is certainly problematic. Thus far France has been able to meet quite serious crises. The Boulanger coup and the Dreyfus affair threatened the life of the republic, but were overcome. In days like these, with so many other countries falling into the hands of dictators, nothing would surprise us. We hope, however, the republic will weather the present storm. We are inclined to believe that it will.

RESTLESSNESS ON THE COLLEGE CAMPUS

Those familiar with life on college campuses all report a spirit of restlessness and protest among college students. This spirit of restlessness and protest is by no means unanimous. On every college campus one will find a fair cross-section of opinion such as obtains in everyday life everywhere.

But the closeness of contact on the campus, the common pursuit of an education, and the natural ambition, inexperience, and questionings of youth give to this restlessness and protest a flavor which differs from the restlessness and protest on the street which the average man walks.

Stable-minded and conservative men off the campus are disturbed by the reports of radicalism supposed to be taking possession of the students. The college has been charged with being a hotbed of dangerous radicalism. But it should be impressed upon such that the aspiring youth found on the college campus will not submit to an intellectual strait-jacket.

What would become of the world if one generation should be permitted to pass on to the one following its own ideas and activities?

We should have a stagnant and decadent world. No man, it has been truly said, has a right to live his life a second time through his children. Each individual must live his own life.

The fact is, the questionings of things as they are by college students should be encouraged, and their youthful concepts of life, even though wrong, should be hailed with delight. The difficulties of the world grow up out of the lack of thinking more than out of any other human trait. Selfishness and greed tremendously affect the state of society. But the man who thinks sincerely and deeply will find how futile both for the individual and for society is the doctrine of every man for himself, the devil take the hindmost.

So, we are glad to hear of this spirit of restlessness and protest on the college campuses. It shows that the college is really functioning. It reveals the existence of groups of thoughtful young men and women who must know the why of things and are determined to know the whither. The great tragedy of life is that so many of these restless and protesting young men and women so soon are absorbed into the mass of those who accept conditions as they are, lose their individuality, and lose sight of the gleam which shone so brightly before them in their college days.

AMENDMENTS TO THE CRIMINAL LAW

United States District Attorney Hall has taken charge of the investigation of the federal Civil Works administration in Los Angeles. It is interesting to note one suggestion that he is making in regard to the grand jury indictments. He calls attention to the fact that it is easier to obtain an indictment for wrongdoing of a federal official than of a state official, under the law.

This is true, as he points out, because, under the federal law, you do not have to show if the man has committed a wrong, that he personally has profited by it. He says: "The mere misuse of a government position, which resulted in defeating the law's purposes, through trickery or deceit, is the basis for the return of indictment against such a person."

It is more than possible that this discrepancy amounts to holes in our network for the prosecution of wrong-doers, and certainly all holes that can possibly be closed should be closed. There are many improvements that can be made in our criminal law. This undoubtedly is one of them.

Another is a change in the provision of the statute of limitations. They should not run in favor of the criminal, until after the individual becomes known, and the opportunity to apprehend him has taken place. Under present conditions, he can hide out until a part of the very law which he has violated is used to clear him.

Misinformation

Just how easy it is for a myth to come into being, flourish and receive universal credence couldn't be more admirably illustrated than by the historic fiction about the absence of bathrooms in England. A source of humor, whimsy and horror for travelers of two generations, the legend persists that bathing in England, whether in private homes or in luxury hotels, is largely accompanied through the agency of tin tub and sponge or of a mysterious and frightful mechanism known as "the geeser." So widespread is this witticism that it is news for the cables when London's newest hotel, located at Marble Arch, is opened with a bath for every room.

That people throughout the world are only in the vaguest way acquainted with the customs of their neighbors is a truism bordering on the trite, but the bathtub legend is too magnificent a paradigm to pass unnoticed. Probably, reversing the medal, there are vast numbers of Englishmen who actually believe that New Yorkers when astonished ejaculate, "Well, I swan!" and that all United States Senators wear broad-brimmed hats and chew tobacco. Certainly a very distinguished French diplomat recently in Washington in connection with the debts instructed his secretary: "And make no appointments for this afternoon, as I wish to motor to Hollywood." There is no particular reason for shame to our tourists abroad who inquire where King Charles III of England is buried or demand vin du pays in Paris. When it comes to misinformation, too many people of all nations live in glass houses to indulge in promiscuous stone-throwing.

Rolling Down To Mexico On New Motor Highway

Here is another matter of American neighborliness, interesting especially to motor tourists. The Pan-American highway running south from Laredo, Texas, is almost finished as far as Mexico City, and that first big unit will be formally opened next October. The Mexican government wants President Roosevelt and his cabinet to join in the celebration. If the President cannot go, he will be represented by Secretary of State Hull, who is "simpatico" enough to get along very well with our Spanish-American neighbors. As many of the cabinet as can break away would doubtless enjoy it.

There should also be, and probably will be, a long procession of American motorists taking advantage of this unusual opportunity to have a good time, make friends with the Mexicans and encourage the pushing of the highway as rapidly as possible clear down to Chile and Argentina. In the future we may become as familiar with Central and South America, and be on the same pleasant terms with them, as we are now with Canada.

Gavels and Ju Jitsu

Anyone who has watched a legislative officer try to keep order by pounding with a gavel must be impressed by the quiet efficiency with which the Japanese preserve parliamentary decorum.

For weeks before the Japanese Diet opens the sergeants at arms are put through a ju jitsu training school and do not go on the job until they become experts.

In England when Parliament goes into turmoil the Mace is solemnly carried up the aisle and the members subside into awe-stricken silence. In America the Speaker splinters the top of his desk to subdue a bedlam.

But in Japan the sergeant at arms is ready to throw the offender out so far and so hard that he will never come back. Perhaps that is why the Diet seems in news dispatches to be extremely docile.

He Gets Excited So Easily

More Truth Than Poetry

SCOTTY

Despite his merely middling size
He's dour and moody and severe,
And either threatens or defies
Whatever dogs that venture near.
He mauls heads every cat he sees
Or harries it across the lot;
He never can forget that he's A Scot.

Let furtive, slinking tramps beware,
He knows their presence bodes no good;
If they do not get out of there
He'll swiftly rouse the neighborhood.
Let thieves who prowl by night or day
Be warned in time, and have a care;
He'll tell the listening world that they Are there.

His ancestors have bayed the moon
In dim and distant days of yore
Along the banks of Bonnie Doon
And by Loch Lomond's echoing shore.
The stags uneasily have stirred
And sought a safer place to park
When from the Trossachs steeps they heard
His bark.

But, when he's done his sentry go,
When in the wood and on the hill
And through the valley far below
The very wind itself is still,
When stars are gleaming in the sky
Above the wandering, singing stream
A weary Scotty loves to lie
And dream.

Thoughts On Modern Life

By GLENN FRANK

HECKLING BY INVITATION

Yesterday I referred to having spent a day recently with Henry A. Wallace, secretary of agriculture, as he dealt at first hand with a large group of farmers we had brought together for conference at the University of Wisconsin.

One aspect of the secretary's busy day dramatized a political technique that could, I think, be used with productive results by other political leaders.

In the morning Mr. Wallace talked for an hour and a half to some 3000 farmers, business men, bankers, grain traders, cooperative leaders and citizens generally who had crowded into the Stock pavilion to hear his formal presentation of the government's dairy policies.

Then after numerous conferences with small groups on specific problems, we took the secretary to a hall where some 1500 Wisconsin farmers were gathered. The secretary made no speech here. He simply stood on the platform and submitted to a rapid-fire cross-examination from the floor. Every phase of agricultural need and opinion was represented in that crowd. In it were men ranging from conservative grain traders to the puzzled and mortgage ridden small farmer and Walter Singler, picturesque farm strike leader.

Mr. Wallace made a profound impression by his lack of cock-sureness, by his willingness to admit mistakes, by his candid admission of the long-time unsoundness of some measures he deemed imperative as emergency policies, by the refusal to be demagogic himself or to let anybody in the audience twist his words to the demagogic advantage of his critics. All in all, it was a heartening and enlightening experience.

Washington became intimate, human, intelligible, near at hand. Men who do not agree with the economics of the Roosevelt farm program left the meeting with a feeling that the government's agricultural program is in the hands of an administrator who is not cursed with the Messiah complex or convinced of his own infallibility, but a man whose long-range vision is not limited by the emergency measures into which events seem to have driven us.

If time could be found for so taxing a venture, it would be a great thing if more of our national leaders would go to the people in this fashion and invite heckling.

Our Children

By Angelo Patri

PROPER CHILDREN

"Not at all like proper children, which is always very slow." Robert Louis Stevenson knew how children ought to grow. Slowly, and with joy in the growing. Sudden spurts under pressure are not real growth. A child follows his own rhythm in development and, although there are many dips in the line there are as many rises and the rise is always increasing so that if you look along the peaks you will find a steady continuous growth.

"I am so discouraged about Junior. Just as I think he is on his way he does something so childish that I feel as though he had asked me to bring his high-chair down from the attic. He buys wisely one time and is cheated the next. He has fine manners one minute and my hopes rise only to be dashed to pieces the next when he fills his mouth with gum and says 'Urr-urr,' to my guest without even rising from his chair. Last month he had a good report card. This month two red C's. It is very discouraging."

Not if you study the line of his growth for years back. If you take it for the past few days or even months, you are likely to be elated or downcast without good reason. He may be on the upgrade for a climb, or he may be on the downgrade for a dip, and either way he is in a state of motion. You can't measure living things. You must wait until growth has paused or passed, to get any degree of accuracy.

At best our measurement of children's growth must be approximate and general. A rough review of what we can see and feel. There are a few signs that can be trusted somewhat. If a child is happy with an inner glowing joy he is developing and growing perfectly. Let him alone. If he is not shining inwardly there is something the matter. Better find out what it is. When you begin the search start with his physical health, his diet, play, rest and work. Then study the people about him. A chronic grumbler in the family, a faultfinder, is as bad as a case of measles, and as infectious.

Whatever comes or goes, remember that growth in proper children, is always very slow. It takes time to set a habit and more to overcome one. It takes a long time for a child to weave an idea into his mind so that it becomes a force in his behavior. One must take account of that. One doing, one telling, one single isolated experience is never enough to accomplish any important change either for good or ill. Growth is slow and steady if it is encouraged and fed.

One of the finest ways that I have discovered to help the growing child is to let him alone. Don't stand trembling behind him whenever he takes a step. Turn your back and wish him well. Think strength to him and let him alone. He is setting out in a little boat as frail as a thought. If you direct your fears elsewhere and turn on your faith so that it reaches him, he will manage. His power will grow under his own control. It will not increase an iota under yours.

Grown people are impatient with children. They want them to hurry up and be big and strong and fine in the fashion of their elders. It has been their elders' painful experiences to arrive at their present average level of power. It will take them many more years to grow to a higher level of power, for the growth of "proper children is always very slow."

Mr. Patri will give personal attention to inquiries from parents and school teachers on the care and development of children. Write him in care of the publisher, enclosing a three-cent stamped, addressed envelope (no reply).
